MEDICALS, CHEMICALS, ETC.

DOMESTIC ECONOMY.
JUDSON'S DYES.
"The process being so clean and simple, there appears no reason why every lady should not be her own dyer, or why dyeing-day should not, in every well-regulated family, be as common as and much more agreeable than washing-day. Any young lady could begin her experiment on a ribbon or feather in a basin of water, and proceed afterwards to larger articles of dress in a bread-pan or foot-bath. The thing would be worth trying from motives of economy."—Vide CASSELL'S HOUSEHOLD GUIDE, March, 1870.
JUDSON'S SIMPLE DYES consist of 18 brilliant colours, and may be used for dyeing Silk, Wool, Cotton, Feathers, Fibre, Leather, Hair, Ivory, Bone, Wood, and for many other purposes.
Sold by Chemists and Stationers throughout the World, price 6d per bottle.
Proprietors—DANIEL JUDSON and SON, LONDON.

A NEVER-FAILING REMEDY
DR. SCOTT'S BILIOUS and LIVER PILLS, prepared without any mercurial ingredient, will be found invaluable to all who suffer from Bilious and Liver Complaints, Indigestion, Wind, Spasms, Giddiness, Dizziness of the Eyes, and many other symptoms which none but a sufferer can describe. For habitual Costiveness, as a family aperient medicine, and as a purifier of the blood, they are unequalled; mild in their operation, and grateful to the stomach; they create appetite, promote digestion, and strengthen the whole nervous system.
Prepared only by W. LAMBERT, 1a, Vere-street, London, W., England. In boxes, 1s 1½d and 2s 9d. Sold by all Chemists.
IMPORTANT CAUTION.—Be sure to ask for "Dr. Scott's Bilious and Liver Pills." If you ask for "Scott's Pills," you will get quite a different medicine; if you ask for "Bilious and Liver Pill," you will get a spurious compound, which, if taken, will not have the beneficial effects. The genuine are in a square green package, and must have the name and address "WILLIAM LAMBERT, 8, King William-street, Charing-cross," engraved on the Government stamp.
It frequently occurs that Druggists impose on their customers a "Scott's Pill," in an oval box, which is quite a different medicine, and causes much disappointment, as their medicinal effects are so opposite; therefore, see you get what you ask for, namely, "Dr. SCOTT'S BILIOUS AND LIVER PILLS."
Wholesale Agents:
Messrs. ELLIOTT, BROTHERS, 112, Pitt-street, Sydney.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. PAGE WOOD stated publicly in Court that Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne, that the whole story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, and he regretted to say it had been sworn to. TIMES, July 13, 1864.
Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne. The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in cholera was Chlorodyne. See LANCET, December 31, 1864.
Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne "is prescribed by scores of orthodox practitioners. Of course, it would not be thus singularly popular did it not supply a want and fill a place."—MEDICAL TIMES, January 12, 1866.
Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne is the best and most certain remedy in coughs, colds, asthma, consumption, neuralgia, rheumatism, &c.
Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne is a certain cure in cholera, dysentery, diarrhœa, colics, &c.
Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.—Caution.—None genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle. Sole manufacturer, J. T. Davenport, 33, Great Russell-street, Bloomsbury, London. The immense demand enables the proprietor to reduce the price; it is now sold in bottles, at 1s 1½d, 2s 9d, 4s 6d, and 11s containing double quantity hitherto.

4711.—EAU DE COLOGNE.—4711
F. M. FARINA,
Established 1792.
Gold Medal, Moscow, 1872; Prize Medal, Vienna, 1873.
This Eau de Cologne, so favourably known to the Australian public during the last thirty-five years, obtained at the last
VIENNA EXHIBITION
the PRIZE MEDAL
for its superior sweetness, strength, and invigorating qualities, excelling all other competitors.
It has become the great favourite of the public, and is extensively patronised by the ELITÉ OF EUROPE.
The large and constantly increasing demand for the genuine 4711 EAU DE COLOGNE, not only in Europe, but also in North and South America, India, and Australia, is further undeniable evidence of its superiority.
The public are respectfully warned against numerous spurious imitations with the genuine number, 4711, changed into 7411, 1147, 4117, &c., &c.
The real genuine article which carried off the Prize Medal at the Vienna Exhibition is that with the peculiar Gothic blue and gold label (different from all others), and marked 1030 SQUARE MILES OF SPLENDID COUNTRY.

25,000 SHEEP (more or less).
QUEENSLAND.
B. D. MOREHEAD and CO. have received instructions from the proprietors to offer for PRIVATE SALE,
THE BUNDEMAR PLAINS STATION, situate in the south-western corner of the MARANOA DISTRICT
(adjoining the Warrego District).
Bundaleer Plains is distant about 90 miles from Fort Bourke, 160 miles from St. George, about 70 miles from Brewarrina, and consists of 14 RUNS or BLOCKS of COUNTRY, comprising an area of about 1030 SQUARE MILES.
The country consists entirely of fine open plains, interspersed with belts of mulga. These mulga belts vary in size from 100 yards to one quarter of a mile in breadth and are of immense value for the purpose of affording shelter for the stock. The whole of the country is of the best description, and is thickly grassed with the celebrated blue and oaten grasses so justly famed for their fattening qualities. Saltbush, carrots, crowfoot, and other fattening plants and herbs grow in the greatest abundance. The country possesses the following specialty—that the herbage grows best in winter, when the grass is scarcest, thereby ensuring fat stock at a season of the year when they are most in demand and bring the highest prices.
The IMPROVEMENTS consist of several DAMS or TANKS, which have lately been completed, and since filled, but and stone. On Yatala (a detached block on the Culgoa) there is a WOOLSHED, COTTAGE, YARDS, &c. This block is admirably watered, having three permanent creeks running through it, and is only forty-five miles from Brewarrina.
With the foregoing country will be sold
25,000 SHEEP
(more or less), which are now being shorn. There are at present 51,000 sheep on the run, but owing to the improvements being meagre, the owners are removing half of them for the purpose of shearing them on another station, and will sell the run with the small number of sheep above stated, viz., 25,000. An opportunity is thereby offered of securing an immense tract of the very fine-t description of country (admirably situated for commanding the best markets in New South Wales, Victoria, South Australia, and Queensland), with only a very small number of stock.
The Agents desire to draw special attention to the short distance between Bundaleer Plains and Fort Bourke (90 miles; and as the Darling as a rule is navigable to the latter place, quick and cheap communication is thus ensured. Last year flour was landed at Bundaleer, via Fort Bourke, at a total cost of £21 per ton. The importance of this fact cannot be overrated.
Properly improved, the forgoing station would carry easily 250,000 sheep; and the owners' only reason for now offering it is that urgent and important business requires the presence of the managing partner in England, who therefore cannot attend to its development.
There are about 700 head of quiet cattle, about 100 horses, two teams of working bullocks, which, with an extensive plant, will be given in. Stores are to be taken at cost price, with carriage added.
Terms—Half cash; the balance can be arranged.
For price and further particulars apply to ROWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL preserves, strengthens, and beautifies the human hair, prevents it falling off or turning grey, and eradicates scurf, dandriff, &c. Rowland's Kalydor eradicates all spots, freckles, and cutaneous eruptions, and produces a beautiful clear and delicate complexion. Sold by all chemists, druggists, and at all bazaars and stores. Ask for Rowland's articles, of 20, Hatton Garden, London, and avoid cheap spurious imitations.

LOSS OF THE DANDENONG.—PUBLIC MEETING.

A PUBLIC meeting was held last night in the New Temperance Hall, convened by the Mayor of the city at the request of a number of citizens, "for the purpose of relieving the sufferers through the late melancholy accident to the steamship Dandenong." Probably owing in some measure to the circumstance that the meeting of last night was held in a hall which is not usually occupied for such a purpose, the attendance was but a moderate one. The chair was occupied by the Mayor (Mr. Benjamin Palmer), and among those present were the Hon. J. B. Wilson, Mr John Davies, M.L.A., Rev. W. Ridley, M.A., Dr. Carroll, Rev. G. Woolnough, M.A., Mr. J. Sutherland, and several prominent citizens.
The CHAIRMAN, in opening the proceedings, said he thought they might well adopt the suggestions of a writer in the Herald of that morning signed "Brevity," that the speeches should be brief provided the subscriptions were long. (Hear, hear.) He had some correspondence to read to them, and to set before them the amounts already received. Through Mr. Paterson, the manager of the Union Bank of Australia, he had received from an individual who had taken his passage by the Dandenong, but who had by some chance been prevented from going by that vessel, a subscription of £20. (Cheers.) He had a letter from his Honor the Chief Justice, Sir James Martin, expressing his hope that the movement would be a success, and enclosing a subscription of two guineas. Mr M. H. Stephen had forwar

General Post Office, Sydney, 16th September, 1876.

Custom House.—Entered Outwards, September 19: Edina (s.), 256 tons, Captain South, for Brisbane and Maryborough.

The Edina (s.) left Brisbane at 4.20 p.m. on the 16th, cleared Cape Moreton at 10.30 p.m. same day, passed North Solitary at 10 p.m. on 17th, Seal Rocks at 10 p.m. on 18th, and arrived in Sydney at 1 p.m. on the 19th instant. Experienced strong S.W. and southerly winds to Clarence River; fresh S.S.E. winds to Smoky Cape, and light N. and N.W. winds the remainder of the passage; heavy southerly swell throughout the passage.

The Hero (s.) cleared Port Phillip Heads at 7.50 a.m. on the 17th instant, rounded Wilson's Promontory at 5.25 p.m. same day, passed Gabo Island at 12.50 p.m. on the 18th, entered the Heads at 3.10 p.m., and arrived at the Grafton Wharf at 4 p.m. On the passage round the Hero had light S.W. and S. winds to the Promontory, thence moderate W.S.W. winds to Eam Head, and fresh head winds thence during remainder of the passage, and fine weather throughout.

The P. and O. Co.'s steamer China left Galle August 25, at 8.30 a.m., and experienced moderate W.S.W. winds, accompanied with rain squall to 3° south of the Line, where she fell in with the south-east trades, which were unusually strong, and high head sea, which continued to Cape Leeuwin, where she wind stood headed her to the Sound, blowing strong from the eastward. After leaving the Sound, had light baffling winds for two days; remainder of passage to Glenelg, strong north-westerly, increasing to a gale, accompanied with heavy rain squalls and vivid lightning. Left Glenelg in a fresh gale from W.N.W., which moderated in Backstairs Passage, and again freshened a p.m. 6 the following morning, increasing to a strong gale with heavy squalls, and veering at 1.30 p.m. to the south-west in a violent squall of wind and rain, barometer standing at 29·19 (lowest during the gale); fresh gale continued from S.W., accompanied with heavy hailstorms to arrival at Melbourne. From Melbourne to Cape Howe, W. to S.W. light winds and fine weather; from thence, moderate to fresh head winds to arrival. Passed company's steamer Avoca on 11th, at 2 p.m., steering east; a steamer at 6.30 a.m. on 14th, steering south.

The cargo of the Kiama (s.) consists of 75 bags bacon, 30 bags bark, 40 hides, 60 bags oysters, 4 bundles 3 bales leather, 80 kegs butter, 10 boxes eggs, 50 cases preserved milk, 6 cases bacon, 4 coops fowls, 17 pigs, 15 calves, 600 spokes, and 1000 feet timber.

The barque Tamerlane took her departure from Glasgow on the 8th June. She experienced very poor N.E. trades, and crossed the Equator in longitude 25 W. on the 32nd day out. The S.E. winds were strong, and well to the southward. Passed the meridian of the Cape of Good Hope on the 62nd day. Her easting was made on a mean parallel of 40 S., with the wind veering from N. to S. by the westward; and the barque made Cape Otway 93 days out. She has had some very heavy gales, in which canvas has been lost. The last one occurred on the 16th and 17th instant, in which she was driven past this port forty miles. There are two entires on board in splendid condition.

The barque Meteor, hence, arrived at Fiji on 27th August.

The schooner Fearless, from Sydney, has arrived at the Richmond River, and according to telegraph reports having passed five wrecks, but no particulars are given.

The experiment of converting the P. and O. Company's steamer Ellora into a sailing ship was watched here some time ago with particular interest, and while the alterations were going on all sorts of prognostications, favourable and otherwise, were made as to the result. It will be satisfactory, therefore to all concerned in the work of altering and refitting her to know that she has acquitted herself admirably on the voyage hence to Calcutta, to which port she conveyed a large number of horses. The run up, according to telegram received yesterday morning by the owners, Messrs. John Blyth and Co., was accomplished in thirty-eight days, one of the quickest passages which has yet been made between this port and Calcutta. So far the ship has proved herself a success, and it will be a matter of some congratulation for Captain Clayton if the return voyage is in keeping with the performance just noted. Should this be the case, the Ellora ought to be on the berth in November next, loading wool for London. Argus, September 16.

LAUNCHES.

The Wanaka.—On July 4, Messrs. Thomas Wingate and Co., Whiteinch, launched a handsome screw steamer named the Wanaka, of 450 tons builders' measurement, compound surface condensing engines of 120-horse power nominal, built to the order of Mr. John Dorling, for the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand. She is classed A 100 at Lloyd's, has elegant passenger accommodation, with latest improvements in all departments, and a high rate of speed is expected.

The Kent.—On July 6 a new and powerful Australian clipper steamship was added to the fleet of merchant ships belonging to Messrs. Money Wigram and Sons, trading between London and the Australian colonies. The vessel, which was named the Kent, has a gross tonnage of 2284 tons, and is fitted with compound engines of 300-horse power nominal, 1500 indicated. Her extreme length over all is 305 feet, between perpendiculars 275 feet; her breadth of beam is 39 feet, and her depth of hold 27 feet, being in all respects a sister ship of the screw steamer Durham.

MR. H. W. S., Melbourne.—My dear Friend,—You tell me I must be very happy in getting rid of those headaches to which I was, like you, so frequently subject. Make use of, as I did, of Grimault's Guarana, and you will wonder at its marvellous results.—JOHN SMITH, Liverpool.—ADV.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bill. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Sold in Packets and Tins, ½lb. and 1lb., labelled—"JAMES EPPS and Co., Homœopathic Chemists, 48, Threadneedle-street; and 170, Piccadilly, London."—ADV.

Brown (No. 2493), plaintiff's memorandum of appeal, part heard; Lamb v. Dangar and others, plaintiff's petition; Maddock and thers v. Barnett, plaintiff's petition; Dibbs v. Brown (No 2570), plaintiff's petition. Master's Office, at 10.30 a.m.: Bucknell v. Vickery, to settle transcript record. At 11 a.m.: Re Ivill's infants, adjourned to fix time to bring in accounts. At 12 a.m.: Watt and others v. Hill and others, adjourned taxation.

DISTRICT COURT.—Cause List for Wednesday, September 20: Herbert v. Shorter, part heard; Ritchie v. The Parramatta Steam Navigation Company, Gardiner v. Peters, Salamons v. Want, Wallington and another v. Sheehan, Dance v. Spencely, Dale v. Compton.

DANDENONG RELIEF FUND.—The following additional contributions to this fund were received yesterday:—Mrs Thorne, Prestonville, Macleay-street, £20; Mr. W. Kelly, £1.

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF SYDNEY.—SPECIAL MEETING.—A special meeting of the Municipal Council of Sydney is to be holden at the Town Hall, George-street, on Thursday, the 21st instant, at half-past 2 o'clock, for the purpose of considering the most advisable course to pursue to obtain possession of the lands upon the watershed on the Lachlan stream, between the Randwick Road and the property of the Corporation HONESTY REWARDED.—Yesterday evening a working-man found, near the North Shore Ferry, a purse containing £4 19s. 3d. Without opening it he took it to the clerk of the ferry, and, after counting the contents in his presence, handed over the whole. Later in the evening a lady called to inquire if any person had mentioned finding it, and upon describing the purse and contents it was restored to her. Overpowered with gratitude she handed the clerk 2s. as a reward for the man's honesty.

THE LATE MR. SWINTON BOULT.—In our obituary of to-day there appears an announcement of the death of Mr. Swinton Boult, who died a short time ago in England. Mr. Boult was the originator of the Liverpool and London Insurance Company, which was started so long back as 1836. He arrived in this colony about twenty-three years ago for the purpose of establishing out here branches of the main society. He was very highly esteemed.

DRINK, DESTITUTION, &c.—On Monday night James Hardie Douglas, aged 28 residing at 350, Sussex-street, was admitted into the Sydney Infirmary, suffering from bad burns on one leg, extending from the ankle to above the knee, having been taken to the institution by senior-constable Thomas, of the central police division. Douglas, when admitted, was also suffering very much from the effects of drink. His sister stated that the burns had been caused by his wife, who had also been drinking, throwing a lighted kerosene lamp at him. It burst at his feet, setting fire to his trousers and burning his leg. The burning oil also set fire to the chair on which Douglas had been sitting; and it was found by Dr. Dansey (City Health Officer), who visited the house, to have been burnt to a cinder. The house was found to be destitute of furniture and bedding, and nothing in the way of food was discovered in it. In all probability the case will come forward for trial at the Central Police Court in the course of the week.

FOUND DROWNED IN THE HARBOUR.—About a quarter-past 9 o'clock yesterday forenoon the body of a female, name unknown, was found floating in the waters of Darling Harbour, near to the Glebe Island Bridge, by Daniel M'Cauley, of Glebe Island. The body was taken out of the water by constable Carroll, who conveyed it to the dead house at the Benevolent Asylum. The following description may aid in identification:—The body is that of a woman from 45 to 50 years of age, with thin face, high cheekbones, gray eyes and hair; dressed in an old light print dress, black shawl, dark straw hat trimmed with brown ribbon and pink flower, red stays, and men's elastic-side boots.

KICKED BY A HORSE.—On Monday William Harding, aged 47 years, residing at Rushcutters' Bay, received a compound fracture of the left arm from a kick from one of his own horses. He was passing between the horse and a fence, when the animal struck out at him and inflicted the injury described. The injured man was treated at the Sydney Infirmary.

INFIRMARY ITEMS.—Yesterday forenoon James Barnes, aged sixty years, residing in Sussex-street, was attended to at the Infirmary for the injuries to the left side, caused through a fall from the roof of a cottage which he was roofing with corrugated iron.—On Monday Flora Woodward, a child of three years was taken to the Infirmary, having pushed a shirt button up one of her nostrils. Dr. Brady, house surgeon, extracted the button, and the little girl was sent home relieved.

THE YACHT DAPHNE.—Mr. Want's yacht, wrecked on Bradley's Head during the late gale, has been raised by Mr. Lloyd, of the Cosmopolitan Wharf, and was towed by the Fleetwing to Woolloomooloo Bay, where she will be repaired. The strength of her construction was fully tested by the knocking about she had for a week on the rocks, with no worse results than that both bilges are stove in.

SAVING LIFE AT SEA.—A correspondent, signing himself "Seaman," writes to say that he thinks it ought to be compulsory for every steamer to carry a sufficient number of cork life-belts for the passengers and the crew; and that, if there had been on board the Dandenong a belt for each person, a number of those who have been drowned might have been saved.

DINNER TO MR. F. S. ISAACS.—The promotion of Mr. Francis Sherriff Isaacs, from the chief clerkship in the office of the Clerk of the Peace to the position of Registrar of the District Court and Clerk of Petty Sessions at Mudgee, was the occasion of a congratulatory and farewell dinner to that gentleman on Monday evening. A large number of gentlemen assembled to meet Mr. Isaacs at Mr. Hook's, the Freemasons' Hotel, where an excellent dinner was served. The company included Mr. E. Barton (who occupied the chair), Dr. Carroll (vice-chairman), and Messrs. J. Teece, Coutts, R. E. O'Connor, Chisholm, Macarthur F. Vyner, A. Vyner, H. W. Forster, M'Kenzie, Mann, Barry, Phillips, Beaver and others. The toast of the evening was, of course, "Health and success to Mr. Isaacs," which was suitably proposed by the chairman, received most enthusiastically, and duly responded to.

ST. MARY'S SUNDAY SCHOOL, BALMAIN.—The annual excursion given to the children attending St. Mary's Church of England school, Balmain, took place yesterday, to Pearl Bay. The excursionists were favoured with fine weather, and both children and visitors seemed to enjoy their holiday.

AUSTRALIAN COMIQUE UNION.—This combination of amateurs gave an entertainment, in the Newtown Town Hall, on Monday evening, in aid of the funds of the Newtown Free Library. The hall was well filled, and the entertainment, which consisted of a choice collection of musical pieces, passed off very satisfactorily.

REDFERN LITERARY ASSOCIATION.—The usual weekly meeting of this society was held in the Town Hall, on Thursday evening last. There was a large attendance of members, and the business was the resumption of an adjourned debate on the question—"That a bold and vigorous immigration policy is needed." The subject provoked a very spirited discussion, which was taken part in by Messrs. Taylor, E. A. Jones, Griffiths, Williamson, Morgan, and Mallarky. The question was decided in the affirmative.

LOYAL ORANGE INSTITUTION.—The anniversary of No. 10 Lodge, in connection with the above institution, was celebrated with a tea-meeting and sacred concert last Monday evening, in the Temperance Hall, Pitt-street. The room was tastefully decorated. After the tea, a concert was given. The W.M., G. L. Carter, took the chair. An excellent programme of sacred music had been arranged by Mr. P. D. M'Cormick. The choir comprised about twenty-five voices. The pieces were well rendered, and gave entire satisfaction. The American Centennial Hymn was given for the first time in this colony. Mr. H. Ackland, who was in excellent voice, sang two solos—"If with all your Hearts," and "David Singing before Saul;" for the latter he was warmly applauded and encored. After the first three pieces on the programme had been gone through, the Rev. Dr. Barry rose, and handed to the W.M., G. L. Carter, a portrait representing him (the master), in his official dress. The picture is a three-fourth size crayon, from the rooms of Mr. J. Hubert Newman of Oxford-street. In all respects the work was unanimously voted a complete success. The W. M. returned thanks to the officers and members for the present. During the evening, Mr. J. Davies, M.L.A., and Mr. Hicks addressed the meeting. The musical programme being finished Mr. R. C. Murray proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. M'Cormick and the choir, which was carried with great applause. The meeting then dispersed, all having evidently enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

DEPUTATION FROM PARRAMATTA.—Yesterday morning a deputation, consisting of the Mayor of Parramatta Mr. C. J Byrnes), Aldermen Young, Trott, and J. Booth, waited upon the Hon. Postmaster-General, to present to him petitions from the four several wards of the borough of Parramatta, signed by large numbers of the inhabitants, and praying for certain alterations in the hours for the delivery of letters in the town of Parramatta. It appeared from the petitions that the deliveries at present take place at half-past 11 in the morning and half-past 6 in the evening, and the petitioners requested that the first delivery in the morning might be arranged to take place at half-past 8 or 9 o'clock, and the second delivery to take place not later than 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The inconvenience of the present arrangement was forcibly pointed out by the Mayor and members of the deputation; it appears the people of Parramatta are virtually delayed a day in their correspondence by the system now in force. The deputation also pointed out to the Minister the desirableness of having the letter-receivers cleared by officials connected with the post-office, and not by the persons who contract to convey the mails to the railway; they further suggested, for the convenience of the public, that the telegraph station at Parramatta should be kept open until 10 o'clock every evening. Mr. Burns, having listened to the representations of the deputation, assured them that he would cause inquiry to be made, in order to see what could be done to meet the views of the petitioners. The deputation thanked the Minister for his courtesy, and withdrew.

SYDNEY INFIRMARY.—Report for the week ended September 16:—Admitted—35 males, 15 females: total, 50 Discharged—29 males, 13 females: total, 42. Remaining in house—145 males, 71 females: total, 216. Subscriptions received, £48 17s.

THE RIVERS.—At Wahgunyah, on the 15th instant, the river Murray was 5 feet 9 inches above summer level; at Echuca, 11 feet 4 inches: and at Swan Hill, 10 feet 11 inches. The Murrumbidgee, at Gundagai, was 5 feet; at Wagga, 3 feet 2 inches; and at Hay, 7 feet.

GLEBE BAND OF COURAGE.—The ninth meeting of the Band of Courage was held in the Presbyterian Church on Monday evening. The Rev. Andrew Gardiner presided. The church, as at the former meetings, was filled to overflowing. After praise and prayer, the chairman examined the children on the chapters in Genesis containing the life of Joseph. The answering was most excellent and several prizes were awarded. The Rev. James Niven, Mr George Spence, and Mr. J. P. Walker gave interesting and appropriate addresses. Two ladies and Messrs. M'Skimming and Glover sang the hymn "Work for the night is coming;" and Mr. M'Skimming gave as a solo, the new and beautiful hymn, "Fully persuaded!" No fewer than twelve of the boys and girls gave recitations, to three of whom, on the votes of the other children, prizes were awarded. Mr. Gardiner read two humorous Scotch pieces. In the course of the evening several of Sankey's hymns were sung very heartily by the audience. Miss Sherriff accompanying. A very enjoyable and profitable evening was brought to a close about 9 o'clock with praise and the benediction

THE UNDAUNTED CRICKET CLUB.—The members of this club held their annual picnic to Chowder Bay on Saturday last. The steamer Breadalbane left the Circular Quay at 2.30 sharp with about 400 people and had it not been so windy there would probably have been a great many more there. The afternoon was spent in various amusements, such as dancing, rounders, cricket, &c. Mr M'Donald and Mr. Puttland acted as M.Cs. The success of the picnic was largely due to the honorary secretary, Mr. J. Cook, and committee. The whole of the company returned to Sydney shortly before 7 o'clock after having spent a most enjoyable afternoon.

DEATH FROM FALLING DOWN AN EXPOSED SHAFT.—On the 9th instant (reports the Forbes Times) another of those frequently fatal accidents occurred, resulting from the dangerous practice of leaving digger's shafts totally exposed, and offering, as it were, a premium for the destruction of human life. On the night in question a labourer named Thomas Fanning, 43 years of age, a native of Ireland, who had been employed at Mr. Pearson's, Wongaiing, was on his way home to the Caledonian Lead, where he resided with his wife. Owing to the distance he had to come his wife was hardly expecting him, and his non-arrival created no serious apprehensions. On Sunday the deceased was accidentally discovered down a deep shaft among some old workings on the Caledonian Lead by Mr. Loder, of the Bank of New South Wales. He was dead when taken out, and an inquest was held on his body the following day, before Mr. Armstrong the district coroner, when the following verdict was returned:—"We find that the death of the deceased, Thomas Fanning was caused by a fracture of the base of the skull, accidentally received in falling down a digger's shaft;" and the jury added as a rider, "That we are of opinion that the abandoned shafts should be filled up by the proper authorities without delay."

DROWNING AT ROCKHAMPTON.—A seaman named Heron, employed on board the Scottish Bard, barque, was in the act of walking from the vessel on a staging at the wharf. Unfortunately (says the Bulletin) the staging was but a make-shift: the planks were not long enough to reach from the ship to the wharf, and to fill the gap a hatch was placed over it. As the tide fell the vessel lowered and the hatch moved. As the man stepped upon it it gave way; he fell through the opening, and the hatch then went down on top of him. The accident was observed by several on board, and a boat was lowered as soon as possible, and sent to the rescue. No trace of the poor fellow could be found.

NEW PASSENGER CARRIAGES.—There are now to be seen at the Spencer-street railway depot (says the Argus) a number of passenger carriages of a very superior description. They were made in Birmingham for the Deniliquin and Moama Railway Company, to plans and specifications prepared by officers in our own Railway Department, and were imported in detached portions, to be put together here, and the carriages finished off. This part of the work is now drawing to a completion in the Spencer-street station, and in a week or two the new running stock will be ready for use. The carriage bodies are of teakwood, polished and varnished. They are so wide that there is room to walk between the knees of sitting passengers without causing them any inconvenience, and the carriage roofs are higher than usual. The seats are of open canework for summer, with handsomely upholstered movable cushions for use in cool weather. The arrangements for ventilation are exceedingly complete: the windows and shutters are so hung or balanced that they will stand wherever the traveller chooses to place them, like a well-fitted sash. There are no locks to the door, but only latches, and these are actuated by rather long and heavy brass levers, whose weight will keep the latches closed should they in course of time work loose.

KANGAROO HUNTING AMONGST THE SELECTORS OF UPPER MOIRA.—A correspondent of the Riverina Herald writes: Notice having been given that a hunt was to meet at Mr. Davidson's, of Barwo, on September 6th, I at once made up my mind to go and see the fun. Being there at the time, I was pleased to see a large number of horsemen from all parts, with a fair supply of dogs, some of the good old sort. After some refreshment the word was given, "All aboard, so off we started in the direction of Mr. Doel's farm, and crossing the Broken Creek into the scrub, we had not gone far before up jumped about a dozen kangaroos, so off went the party, flying in all directions. The dogs picked on two old bucks; one crossing the fence was soon caught by Mr. Kinsey's dog Nimbo, being followed by other dogs and horsemen, it was soon dispatched. Turning round, we could see other horsemen at the creek. Hurrying over there, we saw the other old gent. in the water. He had succeeded in ripping two dogs severely, one of which took no further part in the hunt, and had to be taken home. The buck, after fighting desperately, met the fate of the other. The third was caught by Mr. Slicer's grey hound slut, which managed her game well. Being joined by other horsemen, another move was made. Game was plentiful and fences numerous, but the sport went on without any serious accidents, excepting to one gentleman, who, jumping rather better than his horse, went over first. The leading horses were Mr. O'Malley's Flycatcher, Mr. Kinsey's Minerva, Mr. Moran's Stockman, Mr. Slicer's Emperor, and a gray. Mr. Moran, a good scrub rider often led the way. After about two hours the party began to drop back to where they first met; in about three hours all returned, having killed seventeen kangaroos, one gentleman bringing home six tails. After stabling our horses, we prepared for tea, to which ample justice was done. Buggies, &c., now commenced to arrive, and other ladies and gentlemen stepped in. Preparations had been made for a ball, so all repaired to the ballroom, which was full: the ladies were dressed in the latest fashions. Dancing and singing soon commenced, comic and other songs were ably sung, and quadrille dancing, &c., was kept up till daylight. A vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. Davidson and the ladies who made arrangements for the jollification. So ended one of the most pleasant and delightful parties possible to be enjoyed in the Australian bush.

FIRE AT THE LITHOFRACTEUR WORKS, MAIDSTONE.—Some little consternation was caused in Melbourne and the suburbs about 10 o'clock on Friday evening, the 8th instant (the Argus writes), by two heavy explosions, which perceptibly shook the ground, and a red glare was immediately seen in the direction of Footscray, indicating a conflagration had occurred. The scene of the fire was the works of the Australian Lithofracteur Company, whose offices are at 8½, Little Collins-street. The works are situated between Braybrook and Maidstone, where the company have fifty-one acres of land. In order to explain how the fire occurred it may perhaps be as well to give a short account of the manufacture of this dangerous material, lithofracteur. The company receives large quantities of nitrate of soda, which is placed in two retorts, with an admixture of sulphuric acid. The process of distillation proceeds for fourteen hours, when the nitrate of soda decomposes, giving off nitric acid, which is collected into forty-eight receivers, and leaving behind sulphate of soda. The nitric acid so obtained is then mixed with glycerine, and thus forms that well-known explosive material nitro-glycerine. This substance is next amalgamated with a percentage of infusorial earth, and lithofracteur is formed, which is subsequently made up into cartridges for use in mines or quarries. This manufacture has been going on now for two years and a-half without any accident occurring, owing to the precautions taken by the manager, Mr Frederick Mann. In order as far as possible to guard against any accident it has always been the custom to keep the acids on one portion of the ground, and on the surface, while the mixing of the nitro-glycerine with the infusorial earth has been done in a small shed at the bottom of an old quarry about 50 feet deep, and in the same quarry, but at some distance off, is placed the shed in which the cartridges are put up. On the night of the fire the premises were left in charge of a workman named William Pickersgill, who had to draw the retort about half-past 9 o'clock. As a rule the gunnybags in which the nitrate of soda is received are carried outside of the building, but owing to the pressure of business on that day, this had not been done, and consequently there were a number of bags lying about thoroughly saturated with this chemical. When Pickersgill opened the retort door with a long-handled rake he, as usual, rushed outside the door of the building to get clear of the nitrous gas, and, unfortunately, some of the sulphate of soda—which is like melted wax when in a hot state—splashed out on to the empty gunny bags, which immediately flared up, and the building being of wood, of course everything was in a blaze in an instant. Pickersgill did all in his power to save what he could, but the materials on the premises were of such an inflammable character that it was but little he could do. In one portion of the building was a large vat in which was a stout copper receiver containing about 2 cwt. of sulphuric ether, which was used in producing ice for the manufacture of nitro-glycerine. The copper receiver was made of what is known as 9 lb. copper—that is, nearly a quarter of an inch thick. When the fire reached this vat the heat became so intense that the ether expanded and burst the receiver, causing a loud explosion, which was distinctly heard many miles away. There were in addition a number of jars of nitric acid in the building, and as the fire reached them there was a continual series of small explosions, which somewhat startled most persons who were in the vicinity. The whole of the buildings was completely destroyed, the only portion remaining being the tall chimney stack, which is uninjured. Mr. Mann, the manager of the company, estimates the damage done at £2000, there being about £1000 worth of acid on the ground. Of course none of this is covered by insurance, as no company would take the risk. A man named Bates, who went to the fire in a state of intoxication, was slightly burnt, but it was his own fault, for it was quite evident when assistance reached the spot that nothing could be done to save the building.

RAPACIOUS BIRDS.—Yesterday Mr. John Glenfield shot a shag on the Campaspe, which he had seen devouring fish in the river. The Riverine Herald states that in the stomach of the bird were found two bream, each weighing nearly half a pound, and a third smaller fish. The rapacity of the shag species, which feed upon fish, checks the successful acclimatization of the finny tribe in many of the preserves and artificial ponds in the colony.

DRAGGED TO DEATH.—A shocking fatal accident which occurred near Castlemaine is reported by the Mount Alexander Mail. The eldest son of Mr. T. M. Edwards took two horses to the Merri River for water. On returning to town the horse he was riding shied and threw him, and the rope with which he was holding the other horse was twisted round his wrist. He was dragged along distance, and when the horse was stopped the young man, who was just eighteen years old, was quite dead.

KIAMA HARBOUR WORKS.—The workmen employed on the harbour works were invited, by the members for Kiama and Illawarra, Mr. S. Charles, and Mr. S. W. Gray, to a dinner, on the 13th instant, at Kiama. It was intended (says the Independent) as a sort of commemoration of the official opening of the basin, and an expression of goodwill to the men by the gentlemen above named, the larger demonstration having, in consequence of the storm, been postponed for a week. Some forty-four invitation tickets had been issued to the men, and the company was made up to about fifty by invitations to Mr. Moriarty, engineer-in-chief Mr. W. Da is, superintendent of the works; Mr Bray, a relative of Mr. S. W. Gray's; Major Black, and Mr. M'Donald, of the E. S. and A. C. Bank. Mr. Charles occupied the chair, and Mr. Gray the vice-chair. The usual loyal toasts were drunk, and speeches on various other toasts were made by the chairman and visitors above named. Altogether the affair was a most successful one, and the men appeared to thoroughly enjoy themselves.

BORDER QUARANTINE STATIONS.—If further argument were necessary to show the expediency of establishing sheep quarantine stations on the Murray River Border (writes the Border Post) the pecuniary loss sustained by several flockmasters through the wreck of the Dandenong would furnish additional reasons in support of the proposition. Several valuable stud rams and ewes were on board the ill-fated steamer, which were purchased at late sheep shows held in Victoria, and were en route for Sydney, in order to be quarantined there before being brought overland to Riverina. Amongst those whose animals were on board are—Mr. Thomas Mitchell, of Woomargama; Mr Samuel Watson, of Gerogery; Mr. Halliday, of Brookong; and several other well-known squatters. Mr. Alexander Bruce, Chief Inspector of Sheep, New South Wales, will reach Albury during the ensuing week, when details will be entered upon for the establishment of the station at Albury. The losses sustained by those squatters who sent sheep by the Dandenong is something considerable.

BURNT BY A LUCIFER MATCH.—A servant girl named Ellen Geatty was passing St. Patrick's Tavern, in Queen-street, Brisbane, when a lighted match, apparently thrown from within the hotel, was touched by her dress, which, being of thin material, immediately blazed up. Constable Rennison, who was near, rushed up, and, assisted by Mr. G. W. C. Wilson, managed to put the flames out. By the time this was done, however, she was found to be very severely burned, and was taken to the hospital. At the time of the accident she was carrying a child in her arms, which fortunately escaped without serious injury. The Brisbane Courier thinks there is little reason to doubt that this most distressing accident has arisen from the wickedly careless practice of flinging lighted matches away, heedless of where they may fall, or what mischief they may occasion. We can hardly imagine anybody to feel callous respecting such an occurrence, or who would not deeply regret to have been in any way concerned in it, and yet the fact remains that acts of carelessness capable of producing such grievous bodily results are of quite common occurrence in our thoroughfares.

SCENES IN THE VICTORIAN ASSEMBLY.—Two disorderly scenes occurred in the Legislative Assembly on the 14th instant (the Argus tells us), recalling the Parliamentary amenities of the famous stonewall session. In the first instance, Major Smith insisted on addressing the House with regard to the furnishing of electoral returns, though he had been ruled out of order by the Speaker. He was met with loud cries of "Chair, chair," in which Mr. Langton's voice predominated, and turning to the hon. member for West Melbourne, he said, "Will that chattering magpie stop?" He subsequently withdrew the expression, however. After this, Mr. Service raised a small storm by declaring that it was impossible to obtain the real sense of the House on any question because of the compact of the majority with the Government, by which constitutional government was suspended in the colony. Some Ministerial supporters warmly repelled the accusation, and notably Mr. Walker. Mr. Munro maintained that the remarks of the hon. member for Maldon were true, and Mr. Walker replied that the hon. member for North Melbourne knew they were not true. Mr. Munro then demanded that this observation should be withdrawn, and Mr. Walker said, "If you make the same remark outside, I will tell you you are a liar." The wrath of the Opposition thereupon boiled over, and it was not appeased until the hon. member for Castlemaine, accepting the friendly advice of a Minister, withdrew the offensive observation.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—A trick played by a mischievous youngster on the Maryborough and Avoca railway line on the 10th instant very nearly caused death or serious injury to a large number of young men. The Avoca Mail relates that "some youths were amusing themselves during the afternoon by pushing a trolly up an incline and riding down upon it, by which they had a clear ride of over a mile and a-half. The truck was a slow-going, heavy concern, and all went well until about 5 o'clock, when a much swifter running trolly, which was returning from Homebush with some of the railway hands and their provisions, met the first-named trolly at the top of the incline. To this another crowd of youths had attached themselves. As the second trolly was known to be much swifter than the other, the first was allowed a good start, and then about twenty young men or over got on the small unprotected platform, some sitting round the edges, and the rest standing, packed as close as possible. The second trolly went down the hill at a terrific pace, those on board having as much as they could do to maintain their position, and nearly pressing off those at the back. When nearly the end of the incline a boy named Knight, about fourteen years of age, was seen by those standing up to close the gate across the line. This caused a panic on the trolly, and to avoid the expected collision several jumped off, dislodging as many more in doing so. The boy then opened the gate, an on sped the still over-loaded trolly in pursuit of the other. It was then found that those who had jumped or been thrown off had taken with them the sprags used for stopping the truck, and those on board saw they had nothing to prevent them from running into the other truck, and beyond that again was the end of the line, on which stood a truck loaded with rails. As the second trolly came swiftly on the youths on both thought it better to risk a broken leg amongst the unballasted sleepers than await the course of events. Accordingly another stampede occurred, all but one jumping off the first truck, and four remaining on the second. The two trucks thus lightened came together with but a slight shock. W. Harris, the survivor of the first party, then tried to brake his trolly, with the view of preventing both from running into the load of rails, but the pole caught the wheel, and he turned a somersault over the side, as complete, if not as graceful, as any performed by a professional acrobat. At this time another on the back trolly thought fit to trust to his legs, and the remaining three suffered the collision, but fortunately without injury. The load of rails was driven about forty yards by the shock, the front one (empty) was dismantled and thrown off the line, the last truck escaping injury. After the adventure was over it was found that scarcely any one had escaped without cuts, bruises, or torn clothes. Only one was so far hurt as to be unable to walk home, and he got a severe bruising through hanging on to a trolly after he was thrown out, and being dragged on the sleepers; we hear also that one of the railway hands has since been unable to rise from his bed in consequence of a sprain received in the back."

NEW RAILWAY LAMP.—The mechanical ingenuity and inventiveness of the Railway Department, says the Argus, have been severely exercised for some time back upon a lamp in which kerosene oil may be safely and profitably burned in the passenger carriage. The objects aimed at were safety and economy, combined with good illuminating power, and lamps of many patterns have been experimented with until a new and special one has grown under the hands of the department, which it is believed will meet all requirements. A little collision was improvised to test its shock-resisting capability, and it came safely out of the ordeal. The burners will be fed from reservoirs above the flame by an ingenious contrivance that will nicely proportion the supply to the demand. A funnel from the lamp, duly protected and secured, will carry heated air, and any kerosene gas that might have been evolved but not consumed, through the roof of the carriage, and discharge it where it can do no harm. Should any leakage occur, the escaping fluid will be caught, and preserved in safe receptacle. The lamp is sufficiently handsome in appearance, and so far as has as yet been ascertained it will afford an excellent light, and be in all respects suitable for the purpose for which it has been designed. The department must bear in mind, however, that there is much kerosene in the Melbourne market which is very impure, and consequently below what has been adopted as the standard of safety. Before any of the fluid is actually consumed in the carriages, it should be tested for purity, and any that is found to be impure in quality, promptly rejected.

BOILER EXPLOSIONS.—A deputation from the Manchester Steam Users' Association (says the Pall Mall Gazette) had an interview with Mr Cross at the Home Office to press for legislation upon the subject of boiler explosions, and some of the facts urged by the speakers in furtherance of their request are certainly deserving of the serious attention of the Minister. It seems that during the last year 67 persons were killed and 96 wounded by steam-boiler explosions. In March last four boilers burst, killing 11 persons and wounding 26: in May there was an explosion, and five persons killed, and on examining the plates of the boilers they were found to be worn to the thinness of 1-32nd part of an inch. In many other investigations cases were worse, the plates being worn to the thinness of 1-64th part of one inch. No explosion ever occurred, it was said, without the boiler giving warning, but such signs were generally disregarded. The Manchester Steam Users' Association has under its care about 3000 boilers, the safety of which was guaranteed, and there has not been a single life lost for several years from the explosion of boilers under the guarantee of the association. At present inquiry is only held when life is lost, and several days may intervene between the accident and the coroner's inquiry, which give sufficient time to the owner of a defective boiler to remove the material, so that evidence cannot be forthcoming against him. Thus the verdicts of coroners' inquests are usually unsatisfactory, and invariably take the character of accidental death, quite irrespective of the state of the boiler; and the blame is too often thrown on the attendant who has been killed. It is satisfactory to find that there is some chance that the subject will be dealt with when the opportunity occurs.

DEAD CATTLE.—A correspondent writes to the Kiama Independent complaining of the nuisance caused by three dead beasts being allowed, one after another, to putrify in the water of the lagoon, and pollute the air to an alarming extent all around; and now another carcass in the shape of a dead horse is added to the contagious mass. He understands it is the Council's duty to prevent such nuisances; and if so, they would be better thus employed than at some of the ridiculous work they have been doing.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.—The performances at this theatre last night were given in aid of the Dandenong Relief Fund. They were advertised as being under the patronage of his Worship the Mayor, but neither the object nor the patronage succeeded in attracting anything like a good attendance.

VICTORIA THEATRE.—The Royal Illusionists made their first appearance yesterday evening before a very large number of spectators in all parts of the house. Considerable curiosity had been manifested as to their entertainment, and there were probably few in the theatre whose expectations were not more than realised. The old-fashioned style of decorating the stage in a profuse and conveniently wizard style is of course out of date, but these illusionists seem to have even fewer than the ordinary accessories, and their deceptions are consequently more startling. The programme was commenced by Professor Keller, who performed a number of clever conjuring tricks, some not particularly new, but all cleverly executed. His last sensation, the flying cage, in which a small wire cage containing a canary bird disappears in a most mysterious and rapid manner was of itself worth all the rest of his experiments, and the mode of the disappearance, though possibly simple enough when explained, certainly perplexed the spectators. Professor Ling Lock followed with some startling sword-swallowing feats, which he entitled "La fête de las Espadas," and which were horribly sensational. The event most looked forward to in the evening was the exposition of spiritualism, by Messrs. Keller, Cunard, and Yamadeva. They assert that they are the only persons who perform this trick on a fully lighted stage. Be this as it may, the séance is well worth witnessing. A committee was chosen by the audience and inspected the cabinet in which the performers were placed. They tied them, apparently securely, to their chairs, and the doors of the cabinet being closed, the bell-ringing and other so-called spiritual manifestations at once commenced. One of the committee was placed in the cabinet with them, blindfolded, and testified to the apparent quietness, during all the uproar, of the two tied men, and to his inability to understand how the trick was performed. It is of course nothing but a trick, and professes to be no more: but it is so well performed as to be thoroughly worth seeing. The evening concluded with a fire-eating exploit by Ling Lock, which was a regular salamandering affair. Altogether, these illusionists are extremely good, and should prove very attractive.

PHILADELPHIA COMMISSION.

A MEETING of the Philadelphia Commission was held at the Public Free Library, yesterday afternoon. Present: Messrs. Wallis (in the chair), Hill, Norton, Professor Liversedge, Sir Daniel Cooper, and the Hon. Thomas Holt. The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and confirmed.

A letter from Mr. Augustus Morris, the Executive Commissioner at Philadelphia, was laid upon the table, and taken as read. [An abstract of this letter appeared in yesterday's Herald.]

Some discussion took place with regard to a suggested alteration in regard to the statistics published with the mineral map. It had been considered advisable to bring them down to the end of 1875, but the secretary had ascertained that the whole of the statistics up to that date were not yet published. It was therefore decided to make no alterations while the statistics are incomplete.

The following accounts were submitted and passed:—J. C. Lloyd and Co., £31 2s.; G. Benton, £4 6s.

The secretary was instructed to write a letter of thanks to Mr. A. P. Bacon, manager of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, in acknowledgment of that gentleman's services in forwarding the exhibits sent from this colony.

It was resolved, on the motion of the Hon. T. Holt, that Sir Daniel Cooper be requested to convey verbally the thanks of the Commissioners to the executive Commissioner (Mr. A. Morris) the secretary (Mr. Robinson), and to Messrs. Cameron and Forbes, for the services rendered by them in making the exhibition of Australian products so successful.

It was pointed out by the secretary that in the letter just received from Mr. Morris, that gentleman acknowledged the receipt of a communication from Mr. Barnett, the Colonial Architect, asking for information respecting architectural ironwork &c. Mr. Morris promised to use every exertion to obtain the information required.

The remaining business, of a formal nature, having been transacted, the meeting concluded.

NEW IMMIGRATION REGULATIONS.

A SUPPLEMENT to the Government Gazette published yesterday contains the following regulations for the promotion of immigration:—

"Colonial Secretary's Office.

"Sydney, 19th September, 1876.

"His Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, directs the publication of the following regulations, for the promotion of immigration, in lieu of those dated the 16th May, 1876, viz.:—

"1. All immigrants from Great Britain and other parts of Europe shall be approved by the Agent-General, or by such persons as he may appoint for the purpose. And the Agent-General is hereby authorized to make all necessary appointments, and otherwise to carry out all duties to ensure the efficiency of the immigration service under these regulations and under instructions from the Colonial Secretary.

"2. All such immigrants, other than those nominated by residents in the colony, shall be selected by the Agent-General, or by some other officer duly authorized in that behalf.

"3. Approval of such immigrants from the United Kingdom shall be limited to such persons between the ages of twelve years and fifty years as shall pay, or for whom there shall have been paid, a deposit of £2; and for children coming with their parents, between the ages of three years and twelve years, the sum of £1, and younger children without charge. In approving of immigrants, regard will be had to the relative numbers of the population of the colony from the three kingdoms, according to the latest census. Payments in the colony to be made to the Agent for Immigration in Sydney, and in the country districts to the clerks of Petty Sessions, or in London to the Agent-General.

"4. Similar immigrants from the Continent of Europe may be in like manner approved on payment being made in each case to any officer duly authorized in that behalf, of an amount to be fixed, with reference to the different rates of passage thence to the colony, so that the colony shall pay no more passage money for them than the average rate from the United Kingdom: Provided that not more than one-eighth of the funds authorized by Parliament shall be so expended.

"5. In like manner, and under similar regulations, immigrants may be approved from the eastern portion of the United States, by an agent to be appointed by or with the approval of the Colonial Secretary: Provided that not more than one-fourth of the funds authorized by Parliament shall be so expended and provided that none of such immigrants be Asiatics, and that such immigrants shall pay towards their passage not less than immigrants from Great Britain.

"6. The persons to be introduced shall be of sound mental and bodily health and of good moral character, and shall consist of mechanics, miners, domestic servants, farmers, vinedressers, and any other descriptions of labourers suitable for country pursuits, and to be chosen with a special view to the promotion of the industrial pursuits of the colony.

"7. Married people, with their children, and unmarried men shall be allowed to remain on board four clear days after the ship anchors in Port Jackson, and unmarried women shall be received into an immigrant's home, and shall be allowed to remain there for eight clear days under the control of the Agent for Immigration.

"8. Immigrants desiring to proceed, within three clear days of their arrival, to the country districts, will be allowed free passages by railway and steamboat.

"9. Immigrants from the United Kingdom must be brought out in ships subject to the regulations under the Queen's Order in Council, dated February 25, 1856, prescribing rules for preserving order, promoting health, &c., on board passenger ships, and the additional regulations provided by the Board of Emigration in England; also, under such further regulations as the Agent-General may make and prescribe for their moral and sanitary condition during the passage, and those from the Continent of Europe and from the United States, subject to such regulations as may be determined by the Agent-General or other officer duly authorized in that behalf. No allowance will, under any circumstances, be made in favour of any person taking a cabin or intermediate passage.

"10. In the event of any person for whom a deposit has been paid for a passage declining to emigrate, or not being able to comply with the conditions required by these regulations, or in case the amount deposited shall exceed that required for the number of immigrants actually introduced, the amount deposited, or the amount in excess, as the case may be, will be returned to the depositor by the Agent-General in London on satisfactory proof being shown to justify such course, or by the agent for immigration in Sydney, on return of the passage certificate, and upon the receipt of the Agent-General's report.

"11. Persons who make deposits, or for whom deposits are made, will, on approval, receive a passage certificate, which certificate will be available for one year only from the date thereof.

"JOHN ROBERTSON."

THE TURF.

(From the Melbourne Argus, September 16.)

AN ethical question of considerable public interest, and not without some degree of public importance, has been brought under discussion in New south Wales by the publication of a correspondence which has taken place between Sir Hercules Robinson and Mr. John Fairfax, of the Sydney Morning Herald, in reference to horse-racing. That journal affirmed that an opinion prevailed that the Governor of the colony might advantageously devote less time and attention to the Turf, while at the same time inviting him to prove himself a public benefactor by endeavouring to save a noble English sport from degradation." As "the leader of society," Sir Hercules was informed that "the one vice of the Turf is betting," and that "it is in the power of his Excellency to discourage this probably more than anybody else in Australia." These remarks elicited from Sir Hercules a private letter to Mr. Fairfax, in which the writer pointed out that he had persistently done everything in his power to correct the abuses of the Turf both by precept and example; that he had always set his face against underhand and questionable practices; that he had refrained from betting; that he had given up backing his own horses; that he was not a £5 the richer or poorer by every bet he had made in New South Wales; and that he had the satisfaction of seeing that his example in this respect had been followed by some of the leading gentlemen of the colony, and of learning that there is not now a tithe of the betting at Randwick which there was a few years ago.

Thus far his Excellency's letter—which we published, with the rest of the correspondence, yesterday—was a complete vindication of his character as a patron of the Turf from the imputations which were implied, rather than expressed, by the article in the Sydney Morning Herald; and the gentleman of this colony who take an active interest in horse racing could not do better than imitate the policy of Sir Hercules Robinson, by discouraging those practices of gambling and speculation which bring this national sport into disrepute, and by visiting, whenever they have the power and opportunity of doing so, every act of misconduct on the part of the betting ring with exemplary and condign punishment. The total suppression of betting would be a quixotic enterprise to undertake; for, as Sydney Smith once said, you might as well attempt to poultice the humps off a camel, as to cure mankind of the little vices. All that can be done is to discredit them; and to make them either odious or ridiculous, according as occasion serves. The highest occupations and the most blameless pursuits cannot escape contamination and abuse—

"As where's that palace wherein to foul things Sometimes intrude not?"

And in order to keep out of door sports as free as possible from debasing and demoralising elements we must depend mainly upon the force and influence of good example, and the maintenance of a high code of personal honour on the part of those who take the lead in, and give a tone to, such sports in general.

Sir Hercules Robinson seems to think that a reformation of the evils associated with horse-racing would be furthered if the newspapers would refrain from publishing the "daily fluctuations of the betting market and the touting reports of morning gallops, which stimulate gambling and interfere with legitimate sport." But the public journals, which are to-day what the players were three hundred years ago, namely, "the abstracts and brief chronicles of the time," could not omit such reports without a dereliction of duty. It is a description of intelligence which is always in eager demand by a considerable section of the community, and if it were not supplied through disinterested and trustworthy channels, it would very soon be conveyed through those which would be neither the one nor the other—the agents and emissaries of the bookmakers. We think the reports complained of, inasmuch as they aim at accuracy and impartiality, tend rather to check than to stimulate gambling, because they lessen the elements of uncertainty which enter into all betting risks, and place the outside public in a less disadvantageous position with respect to venturing their money than that which they would occupy if they had to depend for their information upon professional touts and recognised members of the ring. There is a considerable amount of gambling on the London Stock Exchange all the year round; but it would be obviously irrational and unjust to assert that this is stimulated by the posting-up of an authentic statement of the fluctuations in the British and foreign funds every quarter of an hour. Neither can the City article in The Times, which discusses the aspects and prospects of those securities on which speculative purchases or sales are being made, be held responsible for the ruinous operations in them which may be engaged in by financial "plungers."

We entirely agree with Sir Hercules Robinson that the abuses of the Turf can be most effectually remedied by precept and example, and that horse-racing is a pursuit which should be dissociated as much as possible from gambling, and regarded exclusively as a national pastime. To appeal to the law to regulate betting and to suppress the malpractices of those who bring the Turf into disrepute is to weaken the power of public opinion and to endeavour to substitute the moral sense of a Government—and all Governments, like corporations, are essentially conscienceless—for the moral sense of the individuals composing the whole community. And the tendency to do this—to invest the Statute Book with the attributes, the didactics, the functions, and the authority of a gigantic Mrs. Trimmer, who is always on the watch to punish the naughtiness of private citizens—is one of the most dangerous, and at the same time ridiculous, features of modern society. Everybody is armed with a huge magnifying glass, and is scrutinising the immoral or reputedly immoral actions of his neighbour, and when he has detected something that does not square with his own particular notions of right and wrong, he lifts up his voice in accents of pleading plaintiveness or of shrill reproach, and exclaims, "Why doesn't the Government bring in a bill to put a stop to this sort of thing!" And finding the Government turning a deaf ear to him, he sits down and writes an indignant letter to one or other of the newspapers. If he finds that there are several persons who are disposed to join with him in remonstrating and demanding the suppression of other men's pet peccadilloes, an association is organised, an agitation is commenced, a "platform" is agreed upon, and thenceforth "the cause" to which these moral reformers have devoted their energies assumes a stupendous importance in their eyes—an importance which they also believe to be reflected in themselves. Numerous forms of Pharisaism are thus engendered. Nobody believes that reformation ought to begin at home, and work outwardly; while the very habit of sitting in judgment upon other people, and of devising methods by which they may be either amended or punished, induces a feeling of self-complacency, if not of self-righteousness, which is actually more odious and repulsive than downright open vice and candid undisguising wickedness.

THE COMMUNISTS OF NEW CALEDONIA

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

SIR,—The loose and unsatisfactory epistle of your correspondent, "Un Tem in," requires a word or two from me, which I trust your liberality will allow me to offer.

Communism is a political creed, upheld by a large party in France and throughout the world. Its principles are advocated and upheld by many of the ablest men of the day both in France and England, and it numbers among its followers the most brilliant names in French literature, headed by the rare genius of Victor Hugo and the practical far-reaching political sagacity of Louis Blanc.

It would have been better for all parties if your correspondent had told us what the political creed of Communism is, and tried to convince our reason that it is false in principle, and a word be ruinous in practice. This he does not make the slightest attempt to do, but is satisfied to indulge in a series of vague assertions and indiscriminate abuse of the Communists, without particulars or proof of any kind whatever, and in the spirit of a very rabid partizan. He says, "He has judged the actions of the Commune, one by one, and regrets that such a Government should have germinated in the brains of Frenchmen."

This sort of talk is easy enough, but on whom can it possibly make any impression? Your correspondent occupies a good deal of your space, but from first to last he says not a word about the political creed of the Communists or of the soundness or unsoundness of any of their opinions. In times of revolution he surely does not for a moment dream that great crimes will not always be perpetrated. Although all true men condemn the atrocities of the first French revolution, with its September massacres and horrid guillotine, yet we all hail and applaud that event as the grandest effort ever made by humanity in the cause of progress, and to which France, at the present moment, owes all it can boast of in the shape of freedom and advancement. I never denied that great crimes had been perpetrated by the Communists, but I assert that equally great crimes were committed by the Versailles troops; and I farther say that, in all parts of the world, when the fight for principles comes to blows and Governments are overturned in the revolutionary struggle, great crimes will be committed and blood will of necessity flow. As has been said, revolutions are not made with rose water; but surely that historian would ill fulfil his duty if he, in consequence of those crimes, condemned all the actors in the cause as well as the cause itself. My position is this: I do not say a word for, or about, the prisoners of New Caledonia who are criminals, but the prisoners there who are political offenders only—that is, men or women who are suffering for their opinions, or for their identification with, and adherence to the Commune, I assert broadly that we are bound by every principle of duty to afford them every protection on their landing here, whether by escape or through liberation. The French Consul has told us that there are many prisoners in New Caledonia of the character here described, and I submit that it would be a flagrant departure from all the traditions of glorious old England, as well as its present senseless practice, if we fall a hairsbreadth short in following her noble and high example. Your correspondent is anxious that I should know "that there does not breathe a single other Communist who can, in the smallest degree, be compared to the unhappy Rossel." I do not know this, nor do I believe it, and furthermore I entirely condemn this over-confident assertion, so characteristic of "Un Temoin."

Rossel was an officer holding a commission under the Versailles Government, and was sent against the Communists; but, in time, threw up his commission and joined the Communists. It was for this he was tried and executed—the very crime for which Marshal Ney perished, although poor Rossel had no such defence (which should have prevailed) as Marshal Ney had, namely, the Treaty of Paris. Rossel was unquestionably guilty of the crime charged; but his noble disinterested character and elevated patriotism enlisted all hearts in his cause, and flooded Versailles with petitions to spare his life. Your correspondent is, however, compelled to admit that Rossel was a Communist, and Communism cannot surely be the thing that prejudiced people try to make it out to be when it is upheld by such men as Victor Hugo, Louis Blanc, Garibaldi, Felix Pyat, Edgar Quinet, Generals Cremer and Billot, Colonel Fleurus, Jules Favre, Gambetta, and numerous other great names in literature, science, and war. "Un Temoin" seems to contemplate the Government of Versailles with great complacency, and would have us believe it was faultless. I take the first book to hand, "Paris under the Commune," written by John Leighton, F.S.A., a furious opponent of the Communists, and at page 44, he says—"The Government which has withdrawn to Versailles, committed so many faults that it would be difficult to side with it without reserve. The weakness and inability the greater part of those who composed it showed during the siege, their obstinacy in remaining deaf to the legitimate wishes of the capital, have ill-disposed us for, and engrafted on a state of things which it would have been impossible to approve of. In fine, those unknown revolutionists, the Communists, guilty most certainly, but perhaps sincere, claim for Paris rights that alas at the whole of Paris is inclined to demand." Again the same writer says:—"The past misdeeds of the legitimate Government of Versailles damp our enthusiasm for it, while some few laudable ideas put forth by the Communistic government of the Hotel de Ville diminish our horror of its crimes, and our apprehensions at its misdeeds." One more quotation and I have done. "It might have been spitefully remarked that more than one patriot in his evening walk on the outer boulevards and in the environs of the Hotel de Ville had taken more petit vin than was reasonable in honour of the Republic and of the Commune, but that has not prevented our feeling a surprise akin to admiration at the view of those battalions hastening from all quarters at some invisible signal, and ready at any moment to give up their lives in the cause. During this time the heroic assembly was pettifogging at Versailles, and the Government was going to join them. Paris does not follow."

All this is written by a bitter enemy of the Communists, but he tells a different tale and utters very different sentiments than your correspondent. The writer quoted from is like "Un Temoin," a witness, and saw all he describes.

"Un Temoin" takes exception to my description of the Versailles troops as "a drunken unlicensed rabble." I hope he may not misunderstand me. No one appreciates more fully than I do all the many fine graceful qualities of the French, or has a higher admiration of the perfect courage and dauntless bearing of the French soldiers on the field of battle. The French army that I spoke of had endured twenty years of the corrupt and corrupting influence of the Government of the Empire. It had been led into a war entirely unprepared. It had performed prodigies of valour, short of ammunition, short of clothes, short of food, against fearful odds, and with a consciousness, right or wrong that treachery was at the helm and incompetency everywhere. The unhappy series of crushing defeats that followed such a state of things—whole armies, 170,000 strong, surrendering without a blow, far less a death struggle; the throne and Government upset, and the flower of French chivalry trampled under the hoofs of the conquering Germans—all tended to reduce the unfortunate French army to the state, I believe, I correctly described in the language mentioned. It would, probably, have brought about the same results to any army. results speedily reformed and amended, but I dare say palpable enough during its struggle with the Commune.

In conclusion, I have only to say that, while I trust that our Government and people will always resist an influx of criminals from any quarter, we will be ever ready to afford protection and refuge to the political offenders of all countries, no matter what political convulsion or storm may have blown them to our shores.

THE LICENSING ACT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

SIR,—Another public-house has been recently added to the already large number that exist in this neighbourhood; and, under ordinary circumstances, the bare fact above stated could scarcely be thought worthy of the notice now given to it.

But there are special circumstances connected with its addition which make it, I think, desirable that some attention should be drawn to it, inasmuch as it shows how the present Act may be manipulated by designing individuals; and how also, a reluctant neighbourhood may have multiplied in its midst, houses that are admitted to be undesirable on grounds both moral and social.

The case is this: Not very long ago, an application was made for a license to open as a house of public accommodation, the premises situated at the corner of St John's and Glebe Point Roads, and directly opposite to the residence of Mr. W. T. Pinhey, J.P., and near to St. John's Church.

Through the courtesy of the late inspector Tay or, I was informed of the fact; and believing that there was no need for an additional public-house (as there were already six on the Glebe Point Road within a few yards of each other), and further, that it was undesirable to have a public-house near a church and a school-house, in conjunction with the churchwa dens of St. John's and members of the local school Board, I petitioned against the granting of the license sought to be obtained. That petition was signed also by a large number of the leading and influential residents of the district, many of whom, at great inconvenience, attended at the Police Court also to oppose the application; the police, moreover, gave their opposition to the application on the ground that the house as intended for a house of public accommodation did not meet the requirements of the law. The license was therefore refused.

Some time after, however, an attempt was made to obtain a "transfer," but that also was opposed and likewise failed, and the house was subsequently let for other purposes.

But recently the house has been opened as a public-house, although it has undergone no enlargement to provide the accommodation which it was considered not to possess when the first application was refused by the magistrate, who sat when the application was made; and as the house is, it can scarcely be more than a place that has been opened simply and wholly for drinking purposes.

And this is the manner in which the license has been obtained, as I have been informed by a magistrate who has inquired into the case.

A publican occupying a house in the city applied for a transfer to the Glebe, thereby vacating his house in Sydney.

That having been done, his brother applied for and obtained a license for the house vacated.

Then almost, if not simultaneously, the publican who had applied for the transfer to the Glebe applied for a transfer again to his old house in Sydney.

Upon that, the present proprietor applied for the transfer previously obtained by the city publican supposed to be at the Glebe, although it is doubtful whether he ever occupied the premises for a day. And by these artifices the license has been obtained.

These, then, are the circumstances under which, I have been informed, this house has been forced upon the district, and the present Act so worked to accomplish that purpose.

Now whether or not, in this instance under notice, the law has been misused, I am not sufficiently conversant with the Act to venture the expression of an opinion.

If it is possible, however, by any intelligent or rational interpretation of its clauses, to apprehend the purpose or intention of the Act under which the license has been obtained, it does appear singular that one Bench of Magistrates can, under its provisions—where the conditions are similar—grant a license refused by another.

At all events it seems to be a hardship that the present law may be made to subserve the purposes of a class, and that under the Act as it now exists individuals are able to multiply needlessly in a neighbourhood, and against the known wishes of a very large number of its residents, houses of a character that are generally admitted to be objectionable as the indirect, if not immediate, source of much disorder and crime in every civilized community.

And as the present instance may illustrate how the Act may be made to subserve the ends of designing persons, it may aid, on being further known, the cause of those who for moral and social reasons, and in the best interest of the colony, are endeavouring to obtain an amendment of the Act; and to secure if no more, to the ratepayers of a district some voice in deciding whether or not public-houses shall be introduced into, or needlessly multiplied in their midst.

I shall feel obliged, therefore, if you think the case in this respect, or as bearing on a subject which is daily becoming one of increasing public interest and concern, is worthy of public notice, if you will give this letter space within your columns.

Yours, &c.,

E. M. SALINIERE.

THE SOLAR ECLIPSE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

SIR,—The meteorological conditions were all that could be desired for the observation of the eclipse this morning. The atmosphere was calm and clear, and the only cloud to be seen were on the western horizon. Owing to the trees being shut out from the equatorial by the house and trees, the eclipse was observed by means of a portable telescope of 3½ inches aperture, armed with a magnifying power of ninety diameters. The undulation along the sun's limb at the beginning of the eclipse was not so great as I expected, and the first contact was pretty well observed. The definition greatly improved as the eclipse progressed, and the observation of the last contact was very satisfactory. The following are the local mean times of the contacts in civil reckoning:—

| | | h. | m. | s. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Beginning of eclipse .. | .. | 6 | 22 | 3 a.m. |
| End of eclipse .. | .. | 8 | 1 | 35 a.m. |

These are respectively sixty-three and thirty-five seconds later than my rough calculations in the Herald of Saturday last. After the middle of the eclipse the irregularities along the moon's edge, due to the lunar mountains, were well seen, more particularly towards the sun's southern cusp. I could not trace the moon's limb beyond the cusps, nor could I detect the thorn-like projections seen on the cusps by Captain Noble and others on the occasion of the eclipse of September last. A fine double spot was visible on the sun, but it did not suffer eclipse. The eclipse had an interesting effect on the vacuum sun thermometer, which was suspended in free sunshine and read off at intervals of two minutes. I may here state that a misprint occurs in my notice of the eclipse on Saturday, evening being printed for morning.

PHILADELPHIA EXHIBITION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

SIR,—I beg to call your attention to a paragraph in this day's Herald, headed "Philadelphia and MELBOURNE Exhibitions Commission," in which, among other suggestions, it is recommended that the Executive Commissioner be instructed "to procure samples of American prize wheat and other cereals and to forward them to New South Wales for distribution;" also, "to obtain specimens of Natural History peculiar to America in exchange for specimens of Australian fauna forwarded by the Australian Museum, Sydney."

Have we not an Executive Commissioner for New South Wales, and is he considered incompetent for this duty, that it is suggested to employ the Melbourne Commissioner?

We can hardly be surprised at the Melbourne newspaper printing our gold our tin, our copper, our wool, and even our Trickett, when we so meekly follow their lead, and wish to employ their Commissioner to send us samples of American wheat and of natural history.

CONVEYANCE OF PRISONERS AND LUNATICS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

SIR,—In your issue of the 8th instant appears a correspondence, signed "Anti-Convict," in which are a number of misstatements I feel it my bounden duty to contradict. The objections of the writer to the system permitted by Government of allowing prisoners and lunatics to be conveyed to their respective goals and asylums by the ordinary mail and passenger coach I will pass over, as they do not affect the firm by which I am employed; and I have no ambition to ape the public censor, especially where no fair cause of complaint exists. But I take the strongest exception to "Anti-Convict" instancing his experience of a trip by the mail coach from Forbes to Orange on the Friday previous in justification of his complaint, and to his unscrupulous distortion of the circumstances to make his objections assume a tangible aspect. "Anti-Convict's" first misstatement is where he asserts that the coach was "constructed to carry six"—the erroneousness of which appears self-evident by the statement with which he follows this up, namely, that it is licensed to carry ten, a number actually two-thirds more than that he states it was constructed to carry. The fact is, that the vehicle will comfortably carry six passengers inside, two beside the driver on the box-seat, and four on the back seat on top, plenty sitting of room and cushions being provided for that number. And if passengers feel disposed to crowd inside because it is a little cold, I cannot see why any one is to blame, with the exception of themselves. Strange to relate, in warm weather every person wants to get outside, but in cold it has the opposite effect. The only cure for this is, to have warm and cold weather coaches constructed, and a coach for the accommodation of "Anti-Convict, should he happen to travel this way.

Again, his next misstatement is quite as palpable and more inexcusable than the last, which may be reasonably imputed to his want of judgement in the carrying capabilities of vehicles. "Anti-Convict's" third perversion is where he describes the disposition of thirteen souls on the coach; whereas, as a matter of fact there were only ten passengers and the driver—the coach, as I said before, being well-adapted to carry thirteen; had the inebriate "Anti-Convict" alludes to as being on the roof made such an exaggeration as this, he might have been excused through confusion of vision. I may here state that the orders to agents and coachmen are most emphatic, not to allow persons to travel by the different coaches in an intoxicated state, a circumstance which, coupled with the fact that none of the passengers were drunk on the arrival of the coach at Orange, tells very strongly of this statement being also untrue. It is a common thing with passengers who delight in frequent potations on the trip to secure a portion of the box seat. No doubt "Anti-Convict" from his confused knowledge of the number of passengers inside the coach enjoyed an outside seat. He next states: "One of the constables had to sit on the lap of one of the prisoners; and if I mistake not the unfortunate female was similarly accommodated as far as her destination." This I am informed by one who was inside the coach is totally untrue, a fact which would be in the plainest degree apparent, if it were not also directly contradicted. With respect to "Anti-Convict's" allusion to the virtuous indignation of the Forbes lock-up keeper at the free passengers objecting to prisoners being obtruded upon them, it would appear, from the real circumstances of the case, that the lock-up keeper was justifiably indignant at so unreasonable an objection, there being ample room.

I am in a position to state that one of the passengers—whom I know to be "Anti-Convict"—used his utmost endeavours to influence the coachman at Forbes to allow the female passenger (with sick child in arms) to go by the coach in question. It will be seen by this, that if any ill-conditioned passenger fancied he was being inconvenienced, such feeling was mainly caused by the interference of the person who, I again say I know, fabricated the complaints which appear in your columns.

ARRIVAL OF THE ENGLISH MAIL VIA SUEZ.

THE P. and O. Company's steamship China arrived yesterday, bringing our London dates to August 4. From various papers received we compile the following intelligence:—

NEW SOUTH WALES EMIGRATION.

At Westminster the office of the Agent-General for New South Wales appears to be busily occupied arranging for the shipment of emigrants in accordance with the amount voted for that purpose by the Parliament of the colony. Following the recent departure of the Samuel Plimsoll on her fourth voyage to Sydney, about the 7th of August the Nineveh, a fine vessel, with 320 statute adults, will be leaving England. Other vessels will soon leave afterwards with emigrants best suited to the wants of the settlement. Mr. H. H. Speed Andrews, R.N., the emigration agent and dispatching officer, uses great care and judgment in the selection of the persons whom from experience he considers best suited to the immediate requirements of the colony.

THE INDIA AND COLONIAL MUSEUMS.

A question was asked the other day in the House of Commons of Mr. Disraeli as to whether it was proposed that a part of the expenses of the India Museum should be defrayed at the cost of the Indian Government. It has appeared all along that such a contribution would be equitable, and would also be received with satisfaction both in England and in the East Indies. The Prime Minister was quite justified in making a cautious reply, and could anything but a cautious and diplomatic answer be expected from the present most reticent and guarded of Ministries? As we understand, there is some official correspondence on this subject forthcoming, which will perhaps throw light on the matter. But it would be an error to assume that any real difficulty exists, or can exist. The establishment, under Dr. Forbes Watson's able superintendence, of an Indian Museum in London will, it is certain, be aided by a triple co-operation. The Imperial Government will act at once with energy and sympathy; the Indian Executive will second their efforts; and at home public subscriptions will not be wanting. The same is considered here as likely to happen with reference to the projected group of Colonial Museums. Local action will be combined with Imperial sympathies, not of the sentimental, but of the practical order, and the combined result may be expected to be that funds will be raised in support of institutions which will be beneficial to science, commerce, and mutual knowledge of all parts of the Queen's Empire in their relation to industry and progress.

THE BISHOP DESIGNATE OF MELBOURNE.

A very handsome testimonial has been given to the Rev. James Moorhouse, D.D., vicar of Paddington and Bishop Designate of Melbourne. Much sympathy had been excited for him on account of the dangerous illness of Mrs. Moorhouse. She was attended by Mr. Morgan, a well-known medical man and a parishioner. The lady, we believe, is now in a fair way towards recovery.

On the 18th instant a further tribute was paid to the Bishop Designate, who, by the way, was erroneously described in the inscription on the silver candelabra presented to him as "Bishop Elect." Dr. Moorhouse is not and could not be Bishop Elect of Melbourne, since colonial bishops are not even nominally and theoretically elected by a Dean and a Chapter, but are appointed directly by letters patent from the Crown. Mais revenons à nos moutons. At the meeting of the Paddington Vestry Mr. Serjeant Gaselee, Sir Thomas Chambers, Q.C., Mr. Forsyth, Q.C. (the members for the borough of Marylebone), and several other gentlemen expressed their warm sense of Dr. Moorhouse's services during the past eight years as Chairman of the Paddington Vestry, and the deep pain they felt at the thought of losing him. He would be followed to Australia by their best wishes and their prayers. Dr. Moorhouse acknowledged the compliment, and orders were given that the resolution should be engrossed on vellum.

THE VOLUNTEER REVIEW.

The largest Volunteer Review that has yet been held in this country took place on July 1, in Hyde Park, before the Prince of Wales. A body of 30,000 men were assembled, the main body of whom were volunteers, including troops from Lancashire, Yorkshire, Devonshire, and other distant counties. They were formed from the right, or from the south, in two lines, the cavalry in quarter-columns of squadrons, and the infantry in quarter columns, fronting the east—the lines extending from about the east end of the Serpentine to the Bayswater Road. The extreme right of the first line was occupied by the Household Cavalry, with the London Militia attached. These were succeeded by the Auxiliary Yeomanry and the cavalry and field-guns of the Honorary Artillery Company; and, generally speaking, the volunteers of the metropolis and the provinces made up the rest of the brigade formation. The general command devolved upon Major-General Prince Edward of Saxe-Weimar, commanding the Home District. The force was formed in five divisions, comprising fourteen brigades, the first division being commanded by Major-General D'Aguilar, the second by Major-General Erskine, the third by Major-General Shipley, the fourth by Major-General Primrose, C.S.I., and the fifth by Major-General Parke. The ground was kept by the Cavalry Brigade, consisting of the 1st Life Guards, Royal Horse Guards, and 20th Hussars, commanded by Colonel Williams, Royal Horse Guards. Punctually at half-past 3 o'clock an open carriage and four, containing the Princess of Wales and the royal children, drove up with an escort of the Royal Horse Guards, the Prince riding on the right and the Duke of Cambridge on the left, each in the uniform of a field-marshal. The Duchess of Teck and party occupied a second carriage. Representatives of the armies of Prussia, Russia, and Turkey, with other foreign officers, were among the staff, and our Indian Empire was represented in the persons of Sir Salar Jung and some officers of the Bengal Lancers.

The inspection of the lines having been accomplished, the royal party took up their positions at the saluting-point, and the march past commenced. The volunteers were played past by the best bands in the regular service, those of the Royal Artillery and Engineers acting as one band, and those of the three regiments of Guards as another. The mounted band of the 20th Hussars played for the march-past of the cavalry. Prince Edward and his staff were the first to pass the flag-staff. Then came the Life Guards, Horse Guards, and the 20th Hussars, followed by the Uxbridge Yeomanry and the light cavalry of the Hon. Artillery Company, with four guns; next came the brigade composed of Foot Guards and eight companies of London Militia, and then began the defile of the Volunteers, led by upwards of 2000 artillery. The second brigade was composed partly of Middlesex and Surrey Artillery, partly of London, Middlesex, and Tower Hamlets Engineers. The engineers, clad in scarlet, closed the march-past of the first division, which was entirely composed of nominally scientific corps. The first brigade of the second division was composed of the infantry of the Hon. Artillery Company and rifle volunteers from Somerset, Devon, Surrey, and Sussex. The fifth brigade was entirely composed of Middlesex men. The third division was headed by the sixth brigade, composed of three London and two Middlesex regiments. Kent and Middlesex contributed the men who formed the seventh brigade, and the eighth brigade was entirely from Middlesex, except 500 men of the 1st Gloucestershire Regiment. The ninth brigade led the fourth division with over 2000 Middlesex men, including a splendid battalion of 800 of the London Irish. Another Middlesex brigade followed with the London Scottish and the Queen's. The eleventh brigade included the London Artists, the "Devil's Own," the Tower Hamlets, and the Yorkshiremen. Bedford, Herts, Essex, and Norfolk contributed the twelfth brigade—the first of the fifth division. Three splendid battalions of the Derbyshire, Leicestershire, and the Robin Hoods followed, and were in turn succeeded by a fine brigade of Lancashire men, of excellent physique. At the close of the march-past the troops were formed up, and a general advance was made in line of brigade columns. The lines halted, and a royal salute was given. The bands played the National Anthem, the spectators cheered, and the review came to an end.

THE WIMBLEDON RIFLE MEETING.

The Victorian match was concluded on 22nd July, and the proceedings of the meeting were brought to a close with the distribution of prizes and a series of athletic sports. The shooting was watched with great interest at the 1000 yards, though the question of victory rested with the English or the Scotch. The English team shot a trifle slower than the others, and had three shots to fire when Scotland had finished. Seven points were wanted to win, and the Englishmen scored ten, giving them the victory with a majority of three.

The following table shows the shooting at each range, with the teams in order of individual merit, and are so arranged that the shooting of the two colonial teams may be easily compared:—

| England (1). | 500 yards. | 600 yards. | Total. | Scotland (2). | 500 yards. | 600 yards. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Fenton | 86 | 94 | 180 | Mitchell | 98 | 94 | 192 |
| Halford | 77 | 89 | 166 | McVittie | 76 | 93 | 169 |
| Humphry | 78 | 84 | 162 | Fergusson | 85 | 77 | 162 |
| Wyatt | 76 | 88 | 164 | Ross | 76 | 85 | 161 |
| Scriven | 94 | 79 | 173 | Rae | 77 | 76 | 153 |
| Totals | 401 | 429 | 830 | Totals | 402 | 425 | 827 |

| Australia (3). | | | Canada (4). | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Greenfield | 80 | 81 | Mitchell, D. | 74 | 86 | 160 |
| King | 85 | 74 | Turcop | 77 | 77 | 154 |
| Sleep | 83 | 68 | Mitchell, T. | 77 | 74 | 151 |
| Wardell | 69 | 74 | Bailey | 67 | 60 | 127 |
| Pepper | 72 | 69 | Corbin | 69 | 39 | 108 |
| Totals | 389 | 366 | Totals | 364 | 337 | 701 |

The principal prizes for cartons were awarded as follows:—Any rifle, 600 yards, Lieutenant-Colonel Bertram; 500 yards, Gilder, 18th Middlesex. Military breech-loaders, 200 yards, Major Waller; 500 yards, Captain Crowther, 6th West York; 600 yards, private Humphry, Inns of Court. Sniders rifles, 200 yards, Lieutenant-Colonel Fenton, 24th Lancashire; 500 yards, Captain Crowther; 600 yards, corporal Taylor, 23rd Stafford. This ends our record of the shooting at the meeting, which has been remarkable for the contrast in the weather with last year. Then there was not a fine day during the whole fortnight. This year not a drop of rain has fallen. The success of the meeting is beyond dispute, and the chairman of the executive committee and Colonel Malcolm, M.P., and Lieutenant-Colonel J. S. Oxley may be congratulated on having had so little unpleasant business to transact. The disqualifications for breaking the rules have been fewer than ever before, and there has been an entire absence of the disreputable tricks which in former years have had to be visited with expulsion from the camp. The new long-range targets which are an experiment this year have worked well, and everything in the arrangements has been satisfactory except the last day. There was a good deal of grumbling owing to the want of information as to when and where the work of the day was to be done. There was no grand stand to guide spectators to the place where the prizes were distributed, the only likely place being the marquees on the south side of the enclosure, marked out for the athletic sports, and thither members of the association and many prize-winners wended their way, only to find, after waiting sometime, that the prizes had been presented by Princess Mary (Duchess of Teck) in front of the "Cottage." The sports were very well managed for a first time; but it is obvious that if any large number of people are to see what is going on there must be a raised platform for the spectators, the course must be circular instead of square, and the centre must be kept clear of all except the competitors actually in competition. On Saturday not one in fifty of the spectators could see anything, and on the side opposite the marquees not ing was to be seen but the backs of a squad of the London Scottish Volunteers in short petticoats, who by entering for the tug-of-war prize thus secured the best position for seeing the sports, while they blocked the view of thousands of people who had as much right to see as they had. The sports were not concluded till too late to make out the certificates, and there was therefore no distribution of prizes.—Pall Mall Gazette.

FEARFUL RAILWAY ACCIDENT IN SPAIN.

The Standard correspondent at Madrid writes as follows:—"On June 26 the news began to spread in Madrid of a fearful railway accident in Catalonia. As usual, the company on whose line this accident had happened declined to give any particulars beyond the fact that the mail train had come to grief not far from Tarrega, between Barcelona and Lerida. Travellers from Saragossa on the next day brought down the most alarming details, and some excitement prevailed, as several members of the Cortes and high officials were expected by that day's mail from the capital of Catalonia. Since that day several of the passengers, who almost miraculously escaped from death, have arrived in Madrid, and I have been able from their narrative and from official sources to collect the following details. The mail train left Barcelona in the morning, as usual, to meet the express which takes all the letters from Aragon and Catalonia to Madrid, starting from Saragossa at 9 in the evening. The train included two first-class, three second-class, and three third-class carriages, with the mail van and four other luggage cars. The guard's van and several cars were provided with powerful breaks, as the line between Barcelona and Saragossa is one of the most difficult in the north of Spain. It runs through a succession of narrow defiles, and through mountains, where tunnels, curves, and inclines are very frequent. This line had been so often threatened, and even interfered with by the Carlists, that the company had never attempted any serious repairs during upwards of three years. Bridges, rails, and embankments were in anything but a good condition, so much so that the Government engineers had repeatedly called upon the company to put their lines in better order. However, to return to the Barcelona mail. We are told by the passengers that all went on well until they entered the province of Lerida, and they were dashing through its lovely scenery of mountains and beautiful glens, with streams and torrents, while they just caught a glimpse of as they passed many a place renowned for the daring raids of Saballo and other freebooters. At last the train approached Tarrega, a pretty little town not far from Cervira. The line here takes a sharp curve of 700 metres on an embankment seventeen metres above the valley, at the very foot of an eminence upon which stands the old castle of Aufegat. Olive woods extend in every direction, and, most happily, a very short distance off are the first houses and the station of Tarrega. Down this curve and incline came the mail train at its full speed, when suddenly a violent shock told the passengers in the first carriages that something had happened behind. The third-class carriage, which was sixth from the engine, had snapped its break and chains simultaneously, thereby running off the line and dragging after it five others. Alone the mail-van and a luggage car remained on the line. The first carriages with the engine went on rapidly, and reached Tarrega, where an alarm was raised, and the whole of the inhabitants answered the call of the authorities.

LAW.

SUPREME COURT.—TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 19.
IN BANCO.
THIRD TERM.
EQUITY APPEALS.

BEFORE their Honors the CHIEF JUSTICE, Mr. Justice HARGRAVE, and Mr. Justice FAUCETT.

DIBBS v. BROWN.

The arguments in this case were concluded.

Judgment was reserved till the other appeals between the same parties were argued.

DIBBS v. BROWN.

This was an appeal against an order of his Honor the Primary Judge, whereby an application on behalf of the plaintiff for an attachment against the defendant for disobeying a decree of the Court, ordering the defendant to give possession to the plaintiff of an undivided half share in the New Lambton Colliery and plant.

Mr. Butler, Q.C., and Mr. Owen, appeared for the appellant; Mr. Davis and Mr. Donovan for the defendant.

The arguments were not concluded when the Court rose.

MATRIMONIAL AND DIVORCE CAUSES COURT.

TUESDAY.

BEFORE his Honor Mr. Justice HARGRAVE.

WILLIS v. WILLIS.

On the motion of Mr. Donovan, instructed by Mr. R. H. M. Forster, the following issues were settled to be tried herein:—Marriage, adultery, and desertion. The petition to be heard on the first sitting day in November, on affidavits, all the witnesses of material facts to be present for cross-examination if necessary.

The petitioner, Margaret Willis, resides in Sydney; the respondent, John Willis, near Dubbo.

INSOLVENCY COURT.

TUESDAY.

BEFORE the CHIEF COMMISSIONER.

It was ordered that certificates be issued to Peter Smith (after balance of Court charges and expenses were paid), Alexander Spark Meares, George Edward Wright, Richard Moore O'Rafferty, and Joseph Cox Goodfellow (after Court charges and expenses of sequestration were paid).

In the matter of Henry Risley Smith, application for a certificate, his Honor said he should require an affidavit from the insolvent showing how much or how little of the statements in his letter of the 29th, which was to supplement or qualify the affidavit previously sworn, he cared to guarantee by the oath of responsibility touching the rule bearing upon this matter.

In the matter of George Blake, application for a certificate, a postponement for a week was granted on the application of Mr. Driver.

In the matter of Thomas Harrington Line, adjourned from the 12th instant, the case was struck out of the list.

In the matter of the Fortuna Gold-mining Company (limited), his Honor stated that a letter had been sent in reference to the winding-up of the company in the name of the original petitioners, and that the only answer which could be given was—"Any person interested in this matter can apply in Court by petition or motion, supported by legal evidence, for any relief that he may in equity seek to obtain by order of Court."

CORRECTION.—The amount of Parbury and Co.'s cheque, mentioned in the report of the examination of Solomon Meyer on Monday, should have been £80 instead of £100.

MEETINGS OF CREDITORS.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT COURT.

TUESDAY.

BEFORE Mr. District Court Judge DOWLING.

M'CORMACK v. LASHFF.

Action for £51 19s., work and labour done in carting building materials and payment of labour between August and November, 1873. Mr. Pilcher, instructed by Messrs. Curtis and Gannon, for plaintiff; and Mr. W. H. Cooper, instructed by Mr. A. W. Castle, for defendant, who pleaded that there was a partnership between the parties, and that defendant was only indebted in the sum of £1 19s. 1d., which he paid into Court. Verdict for plaintiff for amount claimed.

BARRETT v. MAY.

This was an action to recover £2.0 damages for slander. Mr. Windeyer, instructed by Mr. Leary, appeared for the plaintiff; Mr. S. C. Brown appeared for the defendant. Plaintiff is a constable connected with the City Coroner's office, a principal part of his duty being to provide juries for the Coroner's inquests. On the 8th of last month he went to defendant, Thomas May, who keeps a shop near the Redfern railway station, and told him that he would require his attendance as a juror at an inquest on the following morning. Defendant said; "If you put me on that case to-morrow, I will keep it going all day." Plaintiff then asked him for his Christian name, which defendant refused to give, telling him to go and find it. On the next morning at the inquest, which was held at the Benevolent Asylum, the Coroner asked the defendant if it was true that he had made up his mind not to come to a verdict, but to keep the jury there all day. Defendant then, referring to the plaintiff who had conveyed the information to the Coroner, said, "That constable was so tipsy last night that he could not see the seven-inch letters on the window over my door." This was said in the presence of the Coroner and jury and some other persons. Plaintiff swore that he was perfectly sober, that he only had two glasses of ale during the day. Several witnesses were called who proved that plaintiff was perfectly sober on the evening when he served the summons upon defendant. It was submitted for the defence that the defendant had a perfect right to make a complaint of the plaintiff to the coroner, and that the only question to consider was, whether the complaint was made bona fide. Mr. Brown contended that sufficient was shown in the evidence to justify, or, at any rate, to excuse the charge, even supposing it was not strictly true, and that there was no evidence of malice. His Honor gave a verdict for plaintiff, damages £31 10s., and costs for nineteen witnesses.

CARTER v. GALLOWAY.

In this case a verdict was given for £15, and £8 18s costs, with the consent of both parties.

CENTRAL POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY.

BEFORE Messrs. M'Lean and Woods.

Of twelve persons charged with having been found drunk, seven were admonished and five were fined; one of the latter, Elizabeth Rogers, was also fined 40s., or, in default of payment, to be imprisoned fourteen days for using obscene language.

Mary Ann Mills, found guilty of using indecent language in Clarence-street in midday, and Henry Nicholson and Isabella Townsend, found guilty of indecent conduct in Sussex-street between the hours of 1 and 2 in the morning, were each sentenced to pay 40s., or to be imprisoned one month.

John Patterson, charged with riotous behaviour, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to seven days' imprisonment.

George Drew, alias Smith, charged with having stolen a coat, valued at 18s. 6d., the property of James Beaney, of George-street, clothier, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to be imprisoned seven days.

Henry Withers, charged with indecent behaviour in Hyde Park, was sentenced to be detained in custody until the rising of the Court.

Before Messrs. Paling, Linsley, and Calvert.

On the summons paper were twelve cases, of which one was dismissed and three were not prosecuted. John Treman was fined 1s., and Charles Yeand 10s., for having their public-houses open for the sales of liquors during prohibited hours. Charles Peard and Samuel Smith were fined 20s. each, and George Smith 5s., under the Drunkards' Punishment Act. William Henson was fined 1s. for allowing a horse, his property, to stray. In Harris v. Shea and Harris v. Russell, undefended cases under the Tenants Act, seven days' warrant of possession was granted in each.

LICENSING BUSINESS.—Three publicans' licenses were transferred. William Elstub to George Pilgrim, Deacon Inn to William B. Frost, and Thomas Neale to John Stokes.

WATER POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY.

BEFORE the Water Police Magistrate, with Messrs. Reading, Renwick, Neale, Smith, Maunsell, Hunt, and Ridge.

A number of persons were severally fined for drunkenness.

Timothy Doolan, for riotous behaviour, was ordered to pay a fine of 10s., in default to be imprisoned for four days.

Henry Boorall, apprehended on a charge of bigamy, was remanded to the Central Police Court.

Peter Woods was fined 10s., in default to be imprisoned for four days, for being drunk and disorderly at Paddington.

John Hanlon, charged with using threatening language to Ellen Hanlon, was bound over to keep the peace for six months, himself in the sum of £20 and two sureties in £10 each.

Pat Hing, apprehended for protection, was found to be insane, and the Bench ordered him to be sent to the receiving house for lunatics.

SUMMONS SHEET.—There were ten cases on the summons sheet. Albert Williams v. Manus Cannon was a wages case, in which defendant did not appear, and a warrant was issued for his apprehension. C. Merrilees was ordered to deliver up to Sheik Budroiden certain property illegally detained. Mr. Merriman appeared for the complainant. A warrant was issued for the apprehension of Margaret Russell, who failed to appear to answer a charge of assault.

SYDNEY MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

THE usual fortnightly meeting of the Council was held at the Town-hall, yesterday morning. Present—The Right Worshipful the Mayor, Aldermen Oatley, Chapman, Field, Mate, Harris, Davies, Rowe, Playfair, Merriman, Macintosh, Green, and Fowler, and the Town-clerk, Mr. C. H. Woolcott.

The minutes of the last quarterly meeting were read and confirmed.

PETITIONS.

Petitions were presented by Alderman DAVIES from residents in Bennett-street, Surry Hills, and Phelps-street, praying for the erection of lamps. Referred to the Lighting Committee.

By Alderman PLAYFAIR, from residents in Gloucester-street, for the sewer to be laid between Essex-street and the Argyle Cut. Referred to the Sewerage Committee.

QUESTIONS.

In answer to Alderman Merriman, his Worship stated that the report of the committee for building a retaining wall and drainage of Union-street would be brought up immediately; that the report on repairs to pitching in Margaret-street, Essex-street, and Kent-street North would be brought up in a fortnight; that tenders for constructing sewers in Princes-street and Moore's Road would be called as soon as Mr. Bell was able to return to his duties.

In answer to Alderman Fowler, the Mayor said that the tender for the construction of Fyrmont baths would be advertised next week.

In answer to Alderman Playfair as to the power of the Council to have the alignment of Gloucester-street altered, as prayed for by petition, the Mayor read a memorandum from the City Solicitor stating that the Council could not legally comply with the request, it being a matter altogether beyond their jurisdiction.

Alderman PLAYFAIR called attention to the dangerous and unprotected state of the roadway leading down Margaret-street to the wharf. The Mayor stated that he would see that it was attended to.

Alderman OATLEY suggested that a shed or some sort of shelter should be provided for the boatmen at the wharf. The Mayor said that the Marine Board received the license fees from the watermen, and probably they would provide some accommodation if applied to.

Alderman DAVIES called attention to the want of some shelter over the middle division of the Belmore Markets. Alderman MAZE said that the matter would be brought before the committee.

Alderman MERRIMAN said that, as tenders for deepening Dawes Point baths could not be called until next May, when Mr. Sykes's lease expired, he should ask for the sum of £15 for cleansing the baths in the meantime.

GENERAL BUSINESS.

Alderman MAZE moved,—"That the report of the Improvement Committee, recommending that kerbing and guttering be laid on the east side of Little Buckingham-street, between Bedford and Belvoir streets, at the cost of £38, be adopted." Carried.

Alderman FIELD moved,—"That the City Architect be instructed to prepare a design for the completion of the steps and approaches to the main entrance of the Town-hall, with an estimate of cost." Carried.

It was ordered that tenders for cleansing privies and removing nightsoil, and for leasing Market Wharf, be readvertised.

The Council then adjourned.

Lenum, alterations to day-rooms, &c., Gladesville Asylum.

WEATHER, AGRICULTURE, &c.

SOUTHERN DISTRICTS.—The Micalago correspondent of the Queanbeyan Age of 14th instant writes that the weather for some time past has been very dry with heavy frosts, and farmers were beginning to think that we were going to have a dry spring, but a change took place on Saturday when a few fine showers fell during the day and at night the wind set in from the south, but it soon increased to a hurricane accompanied by one of the heaviest snowstorms that we have had here for some years past. On Sunday morning the surrounding country was covered with snow, and all day on Sunday the wind blew with such force that it uprooted large trees and broke down limbs in all directions, the forest being strewn with fallen timber for miles around, in fact, Sunday was the coldest day we have ever felt. Some of the oldest inhabitants say they never witnessed such a heavy storm. Numbers of cattle have died since the storm, already the deaths among the horned cattle have been equal to 50 per cent. of last year's increase. On Tuesday evening the mountains to the east and west of the village were covered with snow, and to all appearances will be for some days longer. The crops and grass are looking better since the storm, but as yet the grass is very short. Fortunately, for the principal sheepowners in this district, sheep will not commence lambing for a week yet. In speaking to a sheepowner a few days since, he told me that he only saved 100 lambs out of 900. So much for lambing too early in these high latitudes. People should take warning by past experience, and farm their sheep to suit the seasons. Horse feed is very scarce about here just now, and what is consumed has to be brought from Queanbeyan. However, as there is a considerable area of land under cultivation this year, it is to be hoped the farmers will be blessed with good crops for the requirements of the coming winter. The Times of the 15th states that at Gundagai the weather has been all that could be desired; the usual September rains are proving quite as copious as can be expected, having commenced in good earnest on Saturday, when refreshing showers fell during the day, with heavy rain at night. On Sunday the wind veered round bringing fine balmy weather until Wednesday; on that day the barometer read "change," and gentle rain occurred during the night. There was a slight frost on Monday, but not sufficient to check the growth of the forest herbage, which is springing fast. The crops around Gundagai are looking well, especially wheat, barley, and oats. We learn that the rainfall now recorded has been pretty generally distributed throughout the district. This seasonable visitation has resulted in the reduction of the price of farm produce; and this in turn is causing a reduction in the rates lately levied by teamsters. It is reported from Goulburn by the Herald of Saturday that the weather since our last has been all that could be desired for farming operations. The splendid fall of rain has dissipated the fears that were entertained of a drought, and put new spirits into our agriculturists and graziers. The rain has been pretty general throughout this district, filling all the creeks and waterholes, and will cause a vigorous spring in the grass. About Wheeo early in the evening of the 10th snow commenced to fall, and in a very short time every inch of ground was covered. The fall continued until about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The ground was then covered to a depth of from eight inches to a foot generally, and in some places deeper. I have been informed that at Native Dog Flat, only a few miles distant from here, the snow was two feet deep. The bush is everywhere strewn with limbs of trees broken down by the weight of the snow. As might be expected the storm has had a most baneful effect upon the poor cattle. It was really pitiful to see the wretched animals wandering about looking for something to eat, but unable to obtain a mouthful. Many of them have succumbed to the cold and hunger. There will be no such thing as dairying in this locality this year. The crops generally are looking well, and so far as they are concerned the rain and snow will do good, as the ground was becoming very dry and fears of another dry summer were beginning to be entertained. All such fears are now dispelled, the ground having received such a thorough soaking as will be sufficient for some time. The rivers and creeks rose to a considerable height, consequent upon the melting of the snow. At Wagga, according to the Advertiser of Saturday, the weather throughout the past week has been changeable, the early portion of the week being fine up to Wednesday, when threatening clouds put in an appearance. During the day we had a few light showers, but no rain of any consequence fell until night, when we had a nice fall for a few hours. The following days were fine up to this evening, when, after some hours of high wind, the rain set in again, continuing whilst we write with a promise of a good fall during the night. From Albury we learn by the Post, of Saturday, that during the early part of the week we had some refreshing showers of rain. Grass is springing up plentifully, and our cattle, sheep, and horses are beginning to assume their wonted appearance. The last season will convey a very useful lesson to those who look to the rearing of cattle as a profitable industry. The season was one of unexampled drought; the herbage was scorched by the intense heat of the sun; swamps and lagoons ran dry, and valuable animals perished for want of the usual elements of sustenance. Every farmer and squatter should grow hay and succulents for their stock, and not be dependent on the freaks of nature. There has been little or no rain at Deniliquin.

MONARO AND SOUTH COAST.—The Herald of Saturday states that at Bombala Saturday broke sultry and gloomy, with indications of rain, and a little before noon it began to fall. The wind being from the west no great quantity was anticipated, but towards evening the wind veered round to the south and south-east, accompanied by a copious fall of both rain and snow, which continued with little intermission all Saturday night, Sunday, and during part of Monday. On Tuesday a change took place, and the day opened out fine. On Thursday evening a thunderstorm occurred, since when the weather has been fine but windy. At Nimitybelle we are advised that a very heavy fall of snow took place, it being in some parts upwards of three feet deep. All fears of drought are now done away with, and graziers and farmers are to be seen going about with smiling faces. The losses to stock during the wet have been very heavy. The news from Cooma by the Monaro Mercury of Saturday is to the effect that the district has had falls of rain and snow—the snowfall being the heaviest for many years.

NORTHERN DISTRICTS.—The Times of Saturday states that, in common with other districts, the neighbourhood of Murrurundi has been visited by welcome showers of rain, accompanied, however, by high winds that were not quite so acceptable. On Saturday and Sunday the fall of rain was very heavy, and the thermometer showed a falling temperature until Monday morning, when it was little above the freezing point. A fall of snow occurred on the same day, and the rain ceased, since which a more seasonable description of weather has prevailed, with indications, at times, of a renewed downpour of rain. The benefit conferred upon the country by the recent showers is incalculably great, and general expectations of a prosperous summer are now entertained by many who were lately fearing the disasters of a drought. The Bridgeman correspondent of the Maitland Mercury, on the 11th, writes that rain fell on Saturday and Sunday. The several crops of wheat in this and surrounding localities, look, so far, exceedingly well, and promise a heavy yield next harvest, if all goes well. The Clarence Examiner of Saturday reports a continuance of dry weather, accompanied with strong westerly winds. Early on Sunday and Monday there were slight indications of a change in the weather, but unfortunately they passed off without the much needed rain. On Thursday and yesterday the wind was blowing strong from the westward. The Lismore paper (Northern Star) of the 9th states, that the weather has been very seasonable for the last few weeks, with warm days and cold nights. At the Manning River, according to the Times of Saturday:—On Sunday night, Monday and Tuesday we were favoured with a steady downpour of rain, quite sufficient for all purposes, and for conferring benefits which will be felt for some time to come. It was accompanied by a cold piercing wind roaring and tearing away in full blast, and carrying with it the rain into the various households, to the occupiers utter discomforture who had to grin and bear it, and who were with this exception highly delighted with the blessing received. Some of the houses shook and trembled to their foundations, but nothing further occurred. The farmers will now be enabled to carry on their operations without any further delay, and with the sunshiny weather we are having there ought shortly to be an abundance of pasture, so that both the farming and the pastoral interests will be equally benefited. The dust, which is a great nuisance and so unpleasant in dry weather, has been checked for a short time, so that travelling will be more enjoyable. There is every prospect of a good wheat crop on the Manning this season, and up to the present time there is no sign of rust; the late rain will be beneficial to this and the other crops. The farmers will take advantage of the moisture of the ground, and will consequently be busy for some little time, and their absence in the various townships will be conspicuous; they must make hay while the sun shines. There was a strong gale blowing from the southward on Monday and Tuesday, and consequently the Diamantina (s.) was unable to leave Sydney until Thursday through stress of weather. By the Examiner of the 16th we learn from Tamworth that the district has had rain, which has so gladdened the soil that, as we are informed, about Carroll and other districts green crops look really wonderful. Indeed, some old residents inform us they have never looked better than now, or gave better promise of such bountiful results. Temperature here and in other districts has been very variable, for while they have been snow-balling in Armidale, we, throughout Thursday, had a really hot wind blowing. Fear of anything like a serious drought in the early portion of the summer has now been dispelled, so that our farmers and graziers may look forward with a cheerful heart for the result of their labour yielding them a rich return. At Armidale (says the Express of the 15th) the weather has been changeable. Heavy rain commenced to fall on Saturday night, and continued at intervals until Monday, accompanied by a sufficiency of snow to put a white covering upon Duval. This change in the weather is doubtless attributable to the approaching spring equinox. The fall of rain was grateful alike to the farmer and the grazier, and a further downpour would be acceptable. We are now enjoying fine mild weather. The Times of Saturday reports from Uralla that on Saturday last a change in the fine weather took place. The sky on that day became overcast, a cold wind followed, and there was every indication that some disagreeable atmospheric disturbances were about to occur. On Saturday night the rain descended in torrents, accompanied by a very cold westerly wind; and on Sunday afternoon and during the night considerable quantities of snow fell, the cold all the time being intense, the temperature indicating a degree of cold very rarely experienced even in these parts. Very little rain fell on Monday in Uralla, but we hear that a heavy snow-storm took place on the same day at Walcha, where the recent inclement weather was felt with even greater severity than in other parts of the district. On Tuesday the overcast sky gave place to the blue vault of heaven and the rest of the week has been made up of very enjoyable sunny days, with rather severe frosts at night. We understand that scores of cattle are succumbing to the effects of the winter, on some of the stations the losses being very heavy. The bush in all directions is strewn with the decaying carcasses of animals who have been too weak to weather the winter blasts. The crops in the district look well, and the late rain will benefit them considerably. Vegetables are scarce and dear (which is true of almost every article of consumption in Uralla), but now that spring is setting in, we may expect a change for the better to take place in the markets.

WESTERN DISTRICTS.—The Record of the 16th states that at Grenfell, on Saturday and Sunday, there was a welcome downfall of rain. From Orange we learn by the Examiner of Saturday that the weather, which last week was unusually fine for this season of the year, showed signs of a change on Saturday, when there were several peals of thunder, which in the afternoon became pretty loud. A steady rain set in, but not very heavy, which continued with some intermission until Sunday forenoon, when it came on to snow heavily, but the ground being very wet from the rain which had previously fallen, it soon melted, and so continued until 8 p.m. But on the Canobias the snow was very deep, and remained on the ground for four or five days. At Lucknow the ground was covered all Sunday, and at Guyong, and thence to Bathurst, the snow was a considerable depth, so deep as to render travelling a laborious work. Since Sunday night the weather has been fine, with a strong breeze. The rain that fell has proved very serviceable to the crops. It has extended as far as Parkes, where it has enabled the miners to wash up their stuff, but it is said that at the London, six miles westward of that township, very little rain has fallen. The Times of Saturday states that at Mudgee the recent general and penetrating rain has been of incalculable benefit to the district, and the warm weather succeeding it has put a new look upon the face of nature. On all sides the eye is gladdened with a quick springing verdure, and the blossoms on the fruit trees assure us that winter is a thing of the past. Shearing will commence at about the end of the month, and every one seems confident that there will be a "merry Christmas" in the Mudgee district. From Burrawang the Chronicle of the 16th reports that the weather during the last few days has been rather unsettled, rain having fallen, and although perhaps not sufficiently, still the quantity promises to be productive of much good. The grass is springing up in many quarters with a verdancy which is pleasing to the eye and nourishing to stock, while the wattle trees are in full blossom, and dispensing their native perfume through many valleys in our district. The gloomy expectations which were looked forward to some time since are now becoming somewhat brightened, and good results are yet to be hoped for. By the Gazette, of Saturday, it is stated that at Parkes the weather during the past week has been very changeable. On Saturday last we were visited with a very heavy thunderstorm, which caused some slight destruction of property, but added materially to the much needed water supply. Several trees in the neighbourhood of the town were struck with big lining. We are informed that two trees in the immediate vicinity of Mr. Wilson's residence, near the Billabong Creek, were struck, and great fears entertained for the safety of the house. High winds have been prevalent during the week and several showers have fallen. During the latter portion of the week fine weather has predominated. We learn from Carcoar by the Chronicle of Saturday, that the weather during the week past has been most unsettled. On Saturday afternoon last rain began to descend heavily, and continued throughout the night. On Sunday morning there was no sign of a change for the better, and a strong southerly wind blew all day accompanied with one of the heaviest falls of snow ever seen in the district. The day was very cold, and the snow was several inches thick in the streets. The weather is still equally, and we hear that some of our sheepowners have lost a large quantity of lambs.

IMPROVED HOME SHUTTLE LOCKSTITCH SEWING-MACHINE.
Notwithstanding the keen and extensive competition in the sewing-machine market, the HOME SHUTTLE not only maintains the premier position, but its sale continues to increase, and its celebrity becomes daily more extensive.
10,000 purchasers will bear testimony to its superior workmanship, its simplicity of management, its durability, its lightness of operation, and its unsurpassable capabilities.
The HOME SHUTTLE is the only high-class lockstitch sewing-machine which operates either by hand or foot. A child eight years old can work it with ease by either power—hand or treadle.
No. 1 Machine, hand only; price, £4 10s, complete in hinged box, specially suitable for persons who object to work a treadle, and to persons frequently changing residence.
No. 2 Treadle Machine; price, £6 10s, polished ornamented stand.
No. 3, same as No. 2, with cover, lock and key, price £7 10s; half cabinet, cabinet, &c.
The machine will sew the thinnest muslin or the stoutest fustian. Each machine guaranteed for 5 years.
N.B.—As spurious imitations are in the market, intending purchasers will look for "M. MOSS and CO." STAMPED on each machine.
M. MOSS and CO., Wholesale Agents,
Wynyard-lane, Sydney.

THE GRANDEST PERMANENT EXHIBITION ever opened on this side of the world, is the ROYAL FURNISHING ARCADE. Thousands and tens of thousands of visitors have expressed their great approbation, and full appreciation of this enterprise, and many remarks have been made at the silence of our daily journals respecting it. Perhaps it may be that the newspaper proprietors have not paid a visit, and therefore have no adequate idea of the magnitude of the display, or it may be that they prefer the old groove, and do not care to see fresh life and vigour imparted to our usual system of trade; but be the motive what it may these little matters do not trouble the proprietor much, his main object is to furnish all the houses he possibly can in an attractive, economical, and substantial manner for prompt cash, it being very desirable that people should be freeholders of their furniture even if they cannot manage to be freeholders of houses and land. Distinct lists have been advertised as to how a house may be furnished for £15, £25, £35, £50, £70, £100, £130, and now a list is given for £170, as follows:—

FOR ABSOLUTE SALE.

IMPORTANT SALE
EIGHTY ACRES OF LAND,
FIG TREE POINT,
By far the most beautiful and valuable Property on the PARRAMATTA RIVER, with
ABOUT 4000 FEET OF WATER FRONTAGE.

W. PRITCHARD has received instructions from the Proprietor to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, 281 George-street, opposite Hunter-street, on THURSDAY, 12th October, at 11 o'clock,
All that piece and parcel of land, containing about 80 acres, having a frontage of 2846 feet to the Great North Road, 2284 feet to Blackwall Road, and about 4000 feet to the Parramatta River.
This most valuable block of land was selected in the early days of the colony, when a man could have what he liked, and was so chosen as to command, among other advantages, the following, viz.:—
1st. Good soil and good water, with views on the river of the most lovely description—views, certainly, not surpassed by any inside the heads of Sydney, combining the most charming lake and river effects ever brought together in landscape.
2nd. Direct land communication by the Great North Road with the metropolis to which place it is only an easy drive, whilst the city is also reached in half an hour by the river.
3rd. Its immense frontage to deep water, there being depth for a man-of-war to lie. The deep navigable water of the river terminating immediately beyond, thus ensuring to it a commercial value in the future scarcely to be estimated.
4th. Its peculiar adaptation for subdivision, that portion of it which forms Fig Tree Bay, so well known as the favourite resort for pleasure parties, forming a fairy-like site for a suburban home, the beauties of which cannot be described in words; whilst the western portion may be so divided as to give a large number of equally beautiful sites, with great depths to the Great North or Blackwall Roads, and extensive frontages to the river.

☞ It must not be forgotten that the property will soon be brought almost at the very gates of the city by the Government bridges now being contracted for, whilst the Parramatta River steamers pass and repass at all hours of the day, and the Burwood station makes the railway easily available.

TERMS: One-third cash; residue, for a term of years at 6 per cent.
 As the sale will take place at the Rooms, the auctioneer will afford intending purchasers an opportunity of visiting and inspecting the property by water, and returning by land.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions from T. MAHER, Esq., to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street
On FRIDAY, 13th OCTOBER,
At 11 o'clock,
ALL THAT very VALUABLE BLOCK of LAND comprising an area of 59 ACRES 3 ROODS and 6 PERCHES, being original lots Nos. 96, 97, and 98 of the well-known
FIVE DOCK ESTATE,
And known as DUNMORE PARK,
having extensive frontages to LYONS-ROAD and other STREETS leading from the GREAT NORTH ROAD, together with that COMMODIOUS and substantially built brick FAMILY RESIDENCE,
fitted with every convenience, and having all necessary out-buildings.
THE WHOLE PROPERTY
to be offered in one lot, or subdivided as follows:—
LOT 1.—Block of land, in area 22 acres 1 rood 20 perches, having 1210 feet frontage to LYONS ROAD,
with a depth of 1176 feet on one side and 650 feet on the other, upon which are the following improvements:—
A VERY LARGE and well-arranged
FAMILY COTTAGE RESIDENCE,
most substantially built of brick on stone foundations, with wide verandah in front, and containing entrance hall, drawing-room, dining-room, library, 6 bedrooms, kitchen, servants' apartments, pantry, storeroom, bathroom and laundry; also detached dairy, coachhouse, stable, carthouse, fowlhouse, and other outbuildings.
A portion (about 2 acres) of the land is tastefully laid out in flower garden and shrubbery. On the road frontage are well-designed carriage entrance gates, from which the residence is approached by a wide carriage drive, planted on each side with beautiful and well-matured ornamental trees and evergreens.
There is also an orangery, orchard, and vegetable garden in all about 6 acres, planted with trees of the choicest description of fruit, all healthy and in full bearing.
The residue, about 14 acres of land, is well-grassed paddocks, all cleared and separated by good substantial fences.

LYONS ROAD
FIVE DOCK ROAD
MARGARET-STREET
WILLIAM-STREET
CHARLES STREET,
with a depth of 300 feet.

☞ The Auctioneers, in bringing this charming and delightfully situated, and in every respect very desirable FAMILY RESIDENCE, and highly improved grounds into the market, would call special attention to the sale, as affording an opportunity now so seldom met with for securing a large and highly improved SUBURBAN ESTATE in, without exception, the
and HEALTHY
suburb around the city.
The position is all that can be desired, on the most elevated part of FIVE DOCK; and the VIEW
from the estate is most charming and beautiful, embracing the waters of HEN and CHICKEN BAY, the PARRAMATTA RIVER, and for grandeur, variety, and extent, cannot be surpassed in any other part of the Southern hemisphere.
The estate is within easy distance of the
and
FIVE DOCK PLATFORM, and only forty minutes' drive of
THE CITY,
by a good road the whole distance and, when THE BRIDGE across
IRON COVE BAY to BALMAIN
(the erection of which tenders are now called for) is completed, this property will be reached from the city under thirty minutes, by one of the most beautiful in the colony, and thereby will be considerably enhanced in value.
SUBURBAN DRIVES
The PARRAMATTA STEAMERS on their trips to and from the city will call at HEN and CHICKEN BAY, where a Wharf is now erected, within 7 minutes' walk of DUNMORE PARK, and will be open to the inhabitants of Five Dock and the Public on and after 1st October next.
It will be offered in one lot, or subdivided as described above, to suit all classes of purchasers.
CARDS to view may be obtained, and a PLAN of the proposed subdivision inspected at the Rooms, Pitt-street.
LITHOGRAPHS now ready for distribution.
Terms very liberal.

LIVERPOOL PLAINS DISTRICT.

VALUABLE FATTENING STATION PROPERTIES.

ON THE NAMOI RIVER.
DRILDOOL STATION, comprising the blocks or runs Drildool, Cubbaroo, and Dead Bullock Warrambool, of an estimated area of 115,500 acres,
with from 6000 to 7000 mixed cattle.
This run is all fenced, and otherwise highly improved.

ON THE THALABA CREEK.
OREEL STATION, comprising the blocks or runs North Oreel, South Oreel, Merrywinebone, Back South Oreel, Back South Merrywinebone,
of an estimated area of 139,890 acres,
with from 6000 to 7000 cattle,
the majority of which are FATTENING BULLOCKS.
This run has nineteen miles frontage to both sides of the Thalaba Creek.

ON THE DARWON RIVER AND THALABA CREEK.
POKATAROO and BEHIND POKATAROO,
of an estimated area of 100,000 acres,
with from 7000 to 8000 cattle,
a good per centage of which are fattening bullocks.
This run has about 15 miles frontage to the Barwon River, and a large frontage to both sides of the Thalaba Creek.

OREEL and POKATAROO STATIONS join and form a most compact block, nearly the whole of these two runs is magnificent sheep country, described by people who know it well as being equal to anything in the Australian colonies.

G. M. PITT and SON have received instructions from Thomas Cook, Esq., to sell by auction, at the Exchange, Sydney, THIS DAY, the 20th September, at 11 o'clock.
The above magnificent Pastoral Properties in three separate lots.

DRILDOOL STATION is situated on the Namoi River, 12 miles from Pilliga telegraph station, and 30 miles below Wee Waa.
It has a frontage to the Namoi River of about 13 miles, and is well watered on the back by numerous lagoons and watercourses.
The country is of the richest fattening description; the frontage to the Namoi is liable to floods, but the whole of the back consists of extensive plains, with here and there belts of timber, and is admirably adapted for either sheep or cattle.
The runs are compact, and worked as one, and are surrounded by the well-known stations of Messrs. Capp, Button, Vickery, and Loder.
The improvements consist of boundary fence on three sides, by 45 miles of fencing, viz., 2 sides by 3 wires, and 1 side by 2 rails and one wire; the Namoi River forms the other boundary.
Dwelling-house, containing sitting room, and 5 bedrooms, built of slabs, shingled, and floored, and verandah on two sides, kitchen, and men's quarters, stables, outhouses, &c.
Good stockyard, capable of holding and working the herd. Branding-yard, covered with galvanized iron; horse, killing, and milking-yards, &c.; horse-paddock at head station, new, about two miles of 3-wire fencing; river forms the other side. About three miles from the home station—weaning-paddock and horse-paddock half a mile square, with a dam in it; also, small cultivation paddock.
There are 100 acres purchased land.
New tenures for five years for these runs have been granted this year, and the rental is paid till January 1 1877.

THE HERD
bear the well-known JBO the JB conjoined) brand, and are exceedingly well bred, and with a fair proportion of ages and sexes.
The proprietor has always paid great attention to culling, and none but the best bulls procurable have been used for many years. The brand is well liked by the Sydney butchers, and the fat stock command the highest prices ruling in the market.

OREEL STATION is situated on the Thalaba creek, to which it has a frontage on both side of about nineteen miles.
The country consists of open plains, with myall and coolabah; the whole of the run is available, and described by those who know it well as magnificent sheep country, heavily grassed, and well up to carrying 70,000 sheep, or its equivalent in cattle.
These runs have the Thalaba Creek running through the centre for about 9 miles, and on this account stock have no distance to travel to water.
The nearest point from Drildool is about 20 miles, and it joins on to Pokataroo and behind Pokataroo for about 17 miles, forming the two runs into one compact block.
Oreel Station has always been looked upon as one of the very best fattening runs in the Liverpool Plains district, and by being fenced into paddocks it would be difficult to estimate the number of fat stock it would turn off annually.

THE HERD
bear the well-known JBO brand, and are quite equal in breeding to the Drildool cattle, as before described.
It is essentially a
BULLOCK HERD,
and it is estimated there are
FROM 4000 TO 5000 FATTENING BULLOCKS, a great number of which can be sent direct to market.
The breedings have not exceeded 500 annually, and this year it is not likely there will be so many, so that the purchaser could, if desired, sell off the whole of the cattle as fat in a very short time, and put on sheep.
Improvements—5 miles of 3-wire fencing between Oreel and Pokataroo.
At North Oreel—House, containing 6 rooms, shingled and floored; new cottage, shingled and floored, containing sitting-room and 3 bedrooms, kitchen, outbuildings, &c., stockyard, most of it new, capable of working the herd; a new killing and milking yards, two small horse paddocks of 2 rails, &c.
At Merrywhinebone, new house of 4 rooms, herding yards, &c.
The purchased land consists of 740 acres. New tenure for five years for these runs have been granted this year, and the rental is paid till 1st January next.

POKATAROO STATION is situated on the Barwon River, to which it has a frontage of 15 miles, besides a large frontage to the Meehi River, about 15 miles frontage to both sides of the Thalaba Creek, and also a large frontage to both sides of the Maroan Creek.
Nature seems to have favoured this particular locality by the bountifulness of its water supply, and it has long been famed for the extent and permanency of its rivers and creeks.
The country, except the Barwon frontage, which is subject to floods, is similar to Oreel, and consists of extensive plains and myall and coolabah country.
It has great carrying capabilities, and the greater part is first-class sheep country.
Improvements.—Comfortable cottage of 6 rooms, with galvanised iron roof, store room, with men's apartments attached; also, 4-roomed cottage, shingled and floored, horse paddocks, herding yard, good stock-yard, &c.
8 miles of fencing between Pokataroo and Mercadool, and 5 miles between Pokataroo and Oreel, as mentioned before.
40 acres purchased land.

THE HERD
are of the well and favourable known JP (conjoined) brand, and have been carefully attended to for many years past. There are a good proportion of fattening bullocks on the run, and the buyer will get a large return on his outlay by the disposal of fat stock during the ensuing summer.
The carrying capabilities of this magnificent property are immense if being now not much more than half stocked.
New tenures for five years for these runs have been granted this year, and the rental is paid till 1st January next.
The Auctioneers would strongly recommend buyers and others on the lookout for investments, to inspect these magnificent properties previous to the day of sale.
No fat cattle have been removed since April last, and there will be a large number ready to come off at once.
The season is now all that can be desired, and the runs will be in splendid order for next summer.
The late floods in the Barwon and Namoi Rivers will fill all the creeks and Warrambools, and thus ensure an ample supply of water.

TERMS:
One-third cash, the balance at one, two, three, and four years, with interest at 6 per cent., payable half-
